Debate Set On Red China Rule In Tibet

Group Works To Set Stage In UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—After a bitter cold war clash between the Soviet Union and the United States, the General Assembly's Steering Committee Friday night acted to set up a quick U.N. debate on charges of Chinese Communist oppression in Tibet.

The 21-nation committee recommended approval of a request by Ireland and Malaya that the question of Tibet go on the agenda for debate in the full Assembly.

The vote was 11-5 with four abstentions. Only the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Indonesia and Liberia voted against the recommendation. Burma, France, Morocco and the Union of South Africa abstained. The chairman did not participate.

VOTE

The Assembly is expected to vote the question on to its agenda Monday. Ireland and Malaya then will submit a resolution calling for "respect for the fundamental human rights of the Tibetan people and for their distinctive cultural and religious life."

In the committee, the Soviet Union charged — and the United States denied — that the U.S. State Department had fabricated the Dalai Lama's appeal to the U.N. for help against the Chinese Communists.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov made the charge after U.S. Minister James W. Barber said the United States welcomed the move sponsored by Ireland and Malaya.

Then Barber, in a second speech, accused Kuznetsov of "an outrageous and unprecedented attack on the sponsors of this item and the United States."

"I categorically and utterly deny," he said, "each and every one of the baseless charges made against the United States this afternoon by Mr. Kuznetsov."

Victor Andres Belaunde of Peru, Assembly president and committee chairman, at one point interrupted Kuznetsov to complain of his harsh language. Kuznetsov told him, "You will not be able to gag us when the cold war is revived. This is a dead question which is already beginning to stink."

Atlas Missile Thunders Over Atlantic Ocean

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Atlas missile, America's double-barreled war rocket and space booster, thundered over the Atlantic on an intercontinental-range flight Friday night.

Aimed at a watery target 5,500 miles downrange, the 85-foot rocket bulled its way into the sky and sped southeastward at 15,000 miles an hour.

This was the third test for the Atlas since the Defense Department declared it operational Sept. 9. The goal of all three shots was to improve the missile's accuracy.

Several flares burst brilliantly high in the air shortly before the Atlas engines burned out. They were to be photographed by ballistic cameras and the results compared with the telemetry on the guidance system. If the guidance is shown to be off, it then can be corrected.

SCHOOL JANITOR CHARGED

Murder Trial Opens In Vt.

CHELSEA, Vt. (UPI)—The state attorney general charged Friday that a prosperous Vermont farmer was kidnapped and murdered after a demand rose in his small community for "some kind of vigilante action" against him.

Frederick Reed opened the state's case in the murder trial of Robert Welch, 46, a grade school janitor, charged with the slaying of Orville Gibson on New Year's Eve of 1957.

Welch alone is on trial for Gibson's slaying. Another man from the tiny village of Newbury, Vt., is to be tried on a murder charge later.

But it is widely accepted here that Gibson's abduction and slaying grew out of a drinking party among more than a dozen residents of Newbury angry because he had severely beaten his hired hand.

ANIMOSITY

"A definite animosity developed toward Orville Gibson with agitation for some kind of vigilante action against him," Reed told a jury of eight men and four women.

Reed did not enlarge on that reference to community anger toward Gibson, an aloof and disagreeable man who never smoked nor drank and who worked his farm up to one of the best in the rich dairy community so that some thought he felt superior. The attorney general charged that Welch broke into the Gibson farm in the early-morning hours and kidnapped the farmer who had gone out to do his chores.

Two other men were seen with Welch in an automobile parked on the highway near the Gibson farm, Reed said. He did not identify the other two men. The other man charged with murder in the case is Frank Carpenter, a farm hand and mill worker.

Welch had previously gone to the home of the Gibson hired man, Eri Martin, Reed said, and told Martin "somebody should give Gibson a dose of his own medicine." Martin had been beaten by his employer after he spilled two 85-pound cans of milk.

Gibson's wife, Evalyn, first raised the alarm when her husband did not come in for breakfast. State police were called that day but it was 2½ months before Gibson's body was found in the Connecticut River.

An autopsy showed he died of

Body Of Woman Washed Ashore

TALLULAH (Special)—The body of Mrs. T. A. Henderson, 46-year-old Greenwood, Miss., housewife, was found yesterday morning on the banks of the Mississippi near here.

She had jumped from the Mississippi River bridge at Greenville, Miss., last Monday.

Madison Parish Sheriff C. E. Hester said that engineers from the U. S. Corps of Engineers' office at Vicksburg, Miss., sighted the body.

They notified their main office, which in turn called the Madison Sheriff's department since the body washed up on the Louisiana side of the river.

Mrs. Henderson's husband, who is employed by the Corps of Engineers, identified the body. Madison parish Coroner Dr. E. Otis Edgerton gave a verdict of drowning, suicide.

He stated that he had made inquiry into the case, viewed the body, and that no guilt was attached to any person. No inquest was necessary.

Dr. Edgerton talked with Mrs. Henderson's son-in-law, Neil Blount Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., and Chief of Police W. C. Burnley of Greenville, Miss.

He was told that Mrs. Henderson

U.S. Decides Not To Ask Tito To Visit

Sources Note Ike's Schedule Too Busy Now

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has decided not to invite Yugoslav President Tito to visit this country within the foreseeable future on grounds President Eisenhower's schedule is too crowded, diplomatic sources said Friday.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was said to have told Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic this week that a Tito tour could not be arranged.

Yugoslav officials were reported surprised. They had reached an "agreement in principle" four months ago with U.S. officials on the desirability of an exchange of visits between Eisenhower and the Balkan Communist leader.

DECISION

U. S. officials declined to discuss the possibility that some reason other than the President's work load was back of the decision against a visit.

The United States has given Yugoslavia economic aid and carried on other relations it has avoided with other Communist countries ever since Tito refused to let Moscow dictate to him.

There was little doubt Tito wanted to visit the United States to dramatize the 10 years of good relations between Belgrade and Washington. The Yugoslav leader told U.S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson two weeks ago he would like to make the trip now.

Eisenhower invited Tito to this country in 1957. Tito accepted at first but finally begged off because of widespread objections in this country to such a visit. Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R - Wis.) threatened to resign from Congress if the trip came off.

But Yugoslav officials felt that the peaceful reception given to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev should serve to smooth the way for a Tito visit.

Fake Story Lands Driver Into Custody

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A fake hijacking story landed Kansas truck driver Arthur E. Palmer in federal custody, sheriff Bryan Clemmens said Friday.

Palmer, 31, of Wichita, Kan., reported last month that his truck, loaded with sugar, was hijacked and he was kidnapped after he paused for a roadside nap near Hammond, La.

But when officers "shook apart his story," Palmer said he received $800 as his share of the sugar after he drove to a small unidentified Mississippi town and made a deal to sell it.

Agents of the U. S. Treasury department's alcohol-tobacco tax unit investigating a hijacking and moonshining ring in Mississippi, entered the case.

Palmer was arrested here Sept. 29 and later was arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner in connection with the hijacking of 39,000 pounds of sugar.

Sheriff Clemmens said the sugar was believed stolen by a Mississippi ring. An officer here became suspicious of Palmer's original story and notified an FBI agent.

Lt. Tom Edwards of the sheriff's office said Palmer broke down while taking a lie detector test at state police headquarters and told what he knew about the stolen sugar. Palmer said an unknown man approached him in Memphis.

Macmillan To Push For Summit Meet

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, bolstered by his election victory, is ready to push for an East-West summit conference as early as next month.

Macmillan has advised President Eisenhower privately he favors quick Western action to preserve the momentum of what he believes is a conciliation process now under way with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

In his campaign speeches and in talks with aides the British leader stressed his view that the sooner the summit is held the better. Too long a delay in arranging top-level talks, Macmillan argued, could result in perilous new tensions.

MONTH

The British believe November would be the best month to arrange a summit parley in Geneva. December is packed with presidential commitments in the United States. January and February seem to the British to be too far away.

Macmillan is among the few Western statesmen with five clear years of authority ahead of him. That authority includes a popular mandate to press on with his self-assumed mission of promoting some sort of cold war truce.

Like Eisenhower, he envisages a whole series of East-West conferences between heads of government and foreign ministers in the years ahead. He feels a first top level parley would be justified if the principals do no more than fix the date of another conference.

Macmillan's eagerness for quick action and for the general summit concept is not shared unreservedly by President Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Hearing Slated On Meet Issue

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Dist. Judge John Dixon Jr. Friday granted the state a temporary restraining order prohibiting the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People from holding any meetings in Louisiana.

George Ponder, assistant state attorney general, filed the petition for the order, pending hearing on a preliminary injunction. Judge Dixon set the hearing for Wednesday.

Ponder's petition was based on a state law requiring the NAACP to file a list of members and officers with the secretary of state. The attorney general contends the group has not complied with the law.

The petition asked that the court prohibit "in the state of Louisiana any meetings of any officers and/or members of the NAACP or any of the subordinate bodies, subdivision or affiliates until they have complied with the provisions of the membership filing law."

HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Funds Cutback Defended By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday defended the administration's cutback in funds for the interstate highway program as "the only prudent and equitable course to follow."

The government has limited federal spending on roadbuilding to $1,800,000,000 during the current fiscal year which began July 1 and set strict limits on the amount each state may spend during any one quarter. Earlier it had been planned to spend 2½ billion dollars on the highway program during the year.

The administration's action had been anticipated by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) in a letter to the President last month, in which Gore described such a slowdown in payments a "deliberate default in payment of obligations to the states."

LETTER

Replying to Gore in a letter made public Friday, Eisenhower said a shortage in the highway trust fund made the cuts necessary, and he blamed Congress for the shortage. He had asked for a 1½-cent increase in the gasoline tax for the next four years. Congress boosted the tax 1 cent for 22 months.

That, Eisenhower said, "is directly responsible for the problem with which we are confronted today."

Eisenhower said setting controls on state spending of federal funds this year was necessary to prevent serious disruption in the highway program during the next fiscal year.

BLAME ADULTS

Educators Outline Views On Cheating

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the nation's top educators said Friday that with adults setting such a bad example it's small wonder so many college students cheat.

Americans, they said, disregard traffic laws any time they think they can get away with it. They think it's fine if an athlete can break the rules without getting caught. They are pretty good about paying their income taxes—but, only because they're afraid of getting caught if they don't.

Cheating is so much a part of the whole social picture in the country, they said, that no one was really surprised to hear about the funny business in the big TV quiz shows.

Steel Issue Termed Vital For Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—With union and industry hopelessly deadlocked, President Eisenhower Friday set in motion Taft-Hartley Act machinery to end the 87-day-old steel strike.

"If permitted to continue, this strike would imperil the national health and safety," Eisenhower declared in a statement announcing his action.

"The national interest demands an immediate resumption of production in this vital industry."

The President named a three-man fact-finding panel and instructed it to report to him by Oct. 16.

Since Eisenhower must have this report before he can seek a strike-ending court injunction, the walkout may last at least another week and perhaps several days longer.

It was the second time this week that Eisenhower had invoked the Taft-Hartley Act's emergency provisions to halt a strike he said endangered the national health and safety. He acted earlier to stop the dock strike on the East and Gulf coasts.

NAMED

The three named to the steel inquiry panel are George W. Taylor, Philadelphia; John Perkins, Newark, Del.; president of the University of Delaware, and Paul N. Lechoczky, Columbus, Ohio, chairman of industrial engineering at Ohio State University.

Taylor and Lechoczky are seasoned labor arbitrators; Perkins is an expert in political science. With a week to work, it was expected the panel may try to achieve a voluntary settlement while at the same time amassing data required for their report to Eisenhower.

The President said he was invoking the Taft-Hartley Act in the

10 Meet Death When Bus And Truck Collide

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—A big tank truck tore into a bus loaded with college coeds at a rainswept crossroads Friday. Nine girls and a professor died in the holocaust.

The bus was one of two headed back to Trenton State College after a night on the town—an outing to a Broadway play in New York. The collision trapped the screaming students and turned the outing into a nightmare. Girls tumbled out of the bus, their dresses and hair aflame. Some panicked. The driver had to throw some out on the road.

Eleven girls and the driver of the truck were injured.

The truck was an empty paint and oil delivery vehicle. It ignited from the burning gasoline spewed across the road. The driver, Roscoe, P.O. 54, of Brooklyn, N.Y., faces a mandatory charge of causing death by auto.

FLAMES

Flames 20 to 30 feet high swept the chartered bus. "It was damn near a miracle to get any of them out," the driver said.

Among the charred remains of carefully saved theater programs and ticket stubs, firemen found 10 bodies. One of them was that of Prof. Ernest Sixta, the president of the Faculty Assn.

"Don't panic, don't panic," the history professor had called out. But, said bus driver Carmen Nini, 40, of Trenton, "The kids

Educators Outline Views On Cheating

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the nation's top educators said Friday that with adults setting such a bad example it's small wonder so many college students cheat.

Americans, they said, disregard traffic laws any time they think they can get away with it. They think it's fine if an athlete can break the rules without getting caught. They are pretty good about paying their income taxes—but, only because they're afraid of getting caught if they don't.

Cheating is so much a part of the whole social picture in the country, they said, that no one was really surprised to hear about the funny business in the big TV quiz shows.

Steel Issue Termed Vital For Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—With union and industry hopelessly deadlocked, President Eisenhower Friday set in motion Taft-Hartley Act machinery to end the 87-day-old steel strike.

"If permitted to continue, this strike would imperil the national health and safety," Eisenhower declared in a statement announcing his action.

"The national interest demands an immediate resumption of production in this vital industry." The President named a three-man fact-finding panel and instructed it to report to him by Oct. 16.

Since Eisenhower must have this report before he can seek a strike-ending court injunction, the walkout may last at least another week and perhaps several days longer.

It was the second time this week that Eisenhower had invoked the Taft-Hartley Act's emergency provisions to halt a strike he said endangered the national health and safety. He acted earlier to stop the dock strike on the East and Gulf coasts.

NAMED
The three named to the steel inquiry panel are George W. Taylor, Philadelphia; John Perkins, Newark, Del., president of the University of Delaware; and Paul N. Lechoczky, Columbus, Ohio, chairman of industrial engineering at Ohio State University.

Taylor and Lechoczky are seasoned labor arbitrators. Perkins is an expert in political science.

With a week to work, it was expected the panel may try to achieve a voluntary settlement while at the same time amassing data required for their report to Eisenhower.

The President said he was invoking the Taft-Hartley Act in the

10 Meet Death When Bus And Truck Collide

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—A big tank truck tore into a bus loaded with college coeds at a rainswept crossroads Friday. Nine girls and a professor died in the holocaust.

The bus was one of two headed back to Trenton State College after a night on the town—an outing to a Broadway play in New York.

The collision trapped the screaming students and turned the outing into a nightmare. Girls tumbled out of the bus, their dresses and hair aflame. Some panicked. The driver had to throw some out on the road.

Eleven girls and the driver of the truck were injured. The truck was an empty paint and oil delivery vehicle.

It ignited from the burning gasoline spewed across the road. The driver, Roscoe, Poe, 54, of Brooklyn, N.Y., faces a mandatory charge of causing death by auto.

FLAMES
Flames 20 to 30 feet high swept the chartered bus. "It was damn near a miracle to get any of them out," the driver said.

Among the charred remains of carefully saved theater programs and ticket stubs, firemen found 10 bodies. One of them was that of Prof. Ernest Sixta, the president of the Faculty Assn.

"Don't panic, don't panic," the history professor had called out. But, said bus driver Carmen Nini, 40, of Trenton, "the kids

Speaker Hits Athletics In Some Schools

GRAMBLING (Special) — More emphasis on academic education was urged by Grambling College President W. E. Jones as he lashed out at the disproportionate amount of time schools sometimes devote to athletics to an audience of 150 Louisiana educators yesterday.

Jones, one of the featured speakers at the first general session of the ninth annual Blacklock Education Conference, said he had nothing against sports or events, but he thought athletics should always be kept in proper balance with the main purpose of schools — sound education.

Calling for "academic all-Americans," Jones asked the assembly to add to the well-known slogans, "Beat 'em up Bulldogs!" and "Eat 'em up alligators!" the far more important "Sack up the science!" and "Rack up the 'rithmetic!"

The Grambling president said that his institution had become so concerned about academic excellence that this semester the "old fashioned" study period has been re-established in an attempt to "provide salvation" for those students who are now losing because of scholastic deficiencies.

Pelted with peals of laughter from the assembly, Jones said he sincerely believed that any boy who "had gumption enough to maneuver a high-speed auto with zutted muffler through modern day traffic and who could make a successful proposal to a maiden had gumption enough to succeed in school with the aid of creative teachers."

Other speakers at the confab were Lincoln Parish School Superintendent Morell Emmons, Mrs. Alice G. Blacklock and Dr. Thomas R. Landry of Louisiana State University.

Negro Victim Of Shooting In Hospital

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Johnnie Washington, 52-year-old Negro shooting victim, was in semi-conscious condition at Confederate Memorial Hospital here last night, and only slightly improved according to hospital officials.

He was wounded in the back of the head Thursday morning at his farm home near Soudheimer.

The shooting took place only hours before the Washington home was to be moved to Tallulah.

Part of a .22 rifle bullet is embedded in the Negro's brain. A neurosurgeon at Confederate Memorial said Thursday that Washington must remain under observation for "at least a week or two" before any surgery can be performed.

BEING HELD — East Carroll Parish Sheriff J. W. Gilbert jailed Horace Sanders, 60, Negro neighbor of Washington. Sanders is held on an open charge, pending outcome of Washington's condition.

Washington told the sheriff that he saw Sanders standing 30 yards away just before he was wounded. Washington's wife said that she also saw Sanders, and that the rifle was fired from the direction where the neighbor was standing.

JONESBORO (Special) — The death of a 23-year-old elementary school teacher whose parents live at Jonesboro has been attributed by a physician to "an overwhelming infection of some kind."

Wandering Cow Holds Up Traffic To Grid Game

COLUMBIA (Special) — A cow wandering across the highway in an "open range" parish tied up traffic enroute to the Mangham-Columbia football game last night.

The cow died, a car was nearly wrecked, the driver was injured and the fans were distraught.

Frank Fife of Baskin, driving a 1953 auto enroute from Urania to his home on the Mangham-Columbia highway, struck a meandering cow at 7:30 p.m.

His auto veered into a ditch. Investigating officer Columbia Town Marshal "Slim" Hodges

two men had difficulties over land boundaries. The Washingtons say that Sanders moved over three or four rows on their farm land each of those years.

Last week, Washington sold his land to a white Lake Providence man.

Speaker Hits Athletics In Some Schools

GRAMBLING (Special) — More emphasis on academic education was urged by Grambling College President W. E. Jones as he lashed out at the disproportionate amount of time schools sometimes devote to athletics to an audience of 150 Louisiana educators yesterday.

Jones, one of the featured speakers at the first annual session of the ninth annual Black Education Conference, said he had nothing against sports, but he thought athletics should always be kept in proper balance with the main purpose of schools — sound education.

Calling for "academic all-Americans," Jones asked the assembly to add to the well-known slogans, "Beat 'em up Bulldogs!" and "Eat 'em up alligators!" the far more important "Sack up the science!" and "Rack up the 'rithmetic!"

The Grambling president said that his institution had become so concerned about academic excellence that this semester the "old fashioned" study period has been re-established in an attempt to "provide salvation" for those students whose schools are now losing because of scholastic deficiencies.

Pelted with peals of laughter from the assembly, Jones said he sincerely believed that any boy who "had gumption enough to maneuver a high-speed auto with gutted muffler through modern day traffic and who could make a successful proposal to a maiden had gumption enough to succeed in school with the aid of creative teachers."

Other speakers at the confab were Lincoln Parish School Superintendent Morell Emmons, Mrs. Alice G. Blalock and Dr. Thomas R. Landry of Louisiana State University.

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Saturday at Young's Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Jess Hathorn officiating.

Interment will be in Line Cedar Cemetery under direction of Young's Funeral Home.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Tessie Stephenson, a daughter, Mrs. Robert Norris, Winnboro; two sons, Ballard and Henry, Kingsport, Tenn.; seven grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Martie Addison, Kingsport, Tenn., and Mrs. Rosie Slizer, Sarahanna, West Virginia.

Negro Victim Of Shooting In Hospital

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Johnnie Washington, 52-year-old Negro shooting victim, was in semi-conscious condition at Confederate Memorial Hospital here last night, and only slightly improved according to hospital officials.

He was wounded in the back of the head Thursday morning at his farm home near Sontheimer. The shooting took place only hours before the Washington home was to be moved to Tallulah.

Part of a .22 rifle bullet is embedded in the Negro's brain. A neurosurgeon at Confederate Memorial said Thursday that Washington must remain under observation for "at least a week or two" before any surgery can be performed.

BEING HELD

East Carroll Parish Sheriff J. W. Gilbert jailed Horace Sanders, 60, Negro neighbor of Washington. Sanders is held on an open charge, pending outcome of Washington's condition.

Washington told the sheriff that he saw Sanders standing 50 yards away just before he was wounded. Washington's wife said that she also saw Sanders, and that the rifle was fired from the direction where the neighbor was standing.

Miss Pepper was beginning her second year of teaching at the Shreveport school after graduating from Louisiana Tech.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Jonesboro.

Wandering Cow Holds Up Traffic To Grid Game

COLUMBIA (Special) — A cow wandering across the highway in an "open range" parish tied up traffic enroute to the Mangham-Columbia football game last night.

The cow died, a car was nearly wrecked, the driver was injured and the fans were distraught.

Frank Fife of Baskin, driving a 1953 auto enroute from Uman to his home on the Mangham-Columbia highway, struck a meandering cow at 7:30 p.m.

Investigating officer Columbia Town Marshal "Slim" Hodges

two men had difficulties over land boundaries. The Washingtons say that Sanders moved over three or four rows on their farm land each of those years.

Last week, Washington sold his land to a white Lake Providence man.

said the vehicle was damaged "extensively."

File escaped with minor injuries.

Authorities held up traffic momentarily while investigating the mishap.

Prisoner Returned

Robert Tinsley, 41, of Ruston, was arrested yesterday by Morehouse sheriff's department on a simple escape charge and returned to Monroe. Police said Tinsley had walked off a work detail here.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Our child-apren gave their father some beautiful french cuff shirts and links for his birthday. Every time he puts on one of these shirts he fumbles so helplessly trying to insert the links with one hand, that he swears he'll never wear them again. Could you explain how to simplify this little task?

Mrs. B. J. C.

Remember, two hands are better than one. Trying to fold the cuff and insert links with one hand after the shirt is on is hard on the nerves as well as the cuffs.
The links should be slipped into one side of the cuffs before putting on the shirt, while both hands are free. Then, after getting into the shirt, it's relatively easy to complete the job.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Are the styles in eastern schools much different than those worn in other parts of the country? After recently purchasing a fairly extensive wardrobe, I decided to transfer from a midwest university to one in the east. Do you think I will have any problem?

Encephalitis Not Unusual In State Area

SHREVEPORT (Special) — A physician said here last night that cases of encephalitis in Louisiana during the summertime are not unusual.

He said there are normally some cases, although thus far they have been of a "less serious" nature than the disease that has killed a number of persons in New Jersey this fall.

He said possibly the type prevalent in New Jersey is caused by mosquito bites. It is called "eastern equine", he added.

TYPES

The type that has been suspected in the hospitalization of 10 persons from the northeast Louisiana area, he reported, may be the coxsackie strain, which is probably contracted through the respiratory system.

He said the hospital for which he works has had two or three cases of encephalitis this summer.
The patients usually recover in a few weeks, he added.

Nine children in one family from Ft. Necessity were suspected of having encephalitis and were hospitalized Oct. 1. All but one of the children have been released and considered cured.

Another suspected encephalitis victim from Bastrop is reported doing well and Monroe doctors say she will probably be released soon.

"So far, we haven't had any encephalitis cases like those in New Jersey—and I sure hope our luck holds," the Shreveport doctor said.

Two Members Of Opry Troupe Killed In Crash

EVANSTON, Wyo. (AP) — Two members of the Grand Old Opry troupe were killed in a head-on automobile collision near here Friday.

The dead were identified by Coroner Gilbert Bills as Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Sullivan, 37, of Hendersonville, Tenn., and Phillip Sullivan, 33, Madison, Tenn.

Mrs. Sullivan's husband, Rollin
Sullivan, 40, also a member of the Western band and dancing group, was in serious condition in an Evanston hospital with shoulder injuries.

Ronald B. Terry, 29, of Green River, Wyo., driver of the other car, was in a critical condition with a broken hip.

Bills said the Grand Old Opry troupe was en route from Lander, Wyo., to a performance in Nevada.

Mrs. Sullivan was driving the car and her brother-in-law, Phillip, was riding in the front seat.
Rollin Sullivan was in the back seat.

West Germany And Guatemala Declare Truce

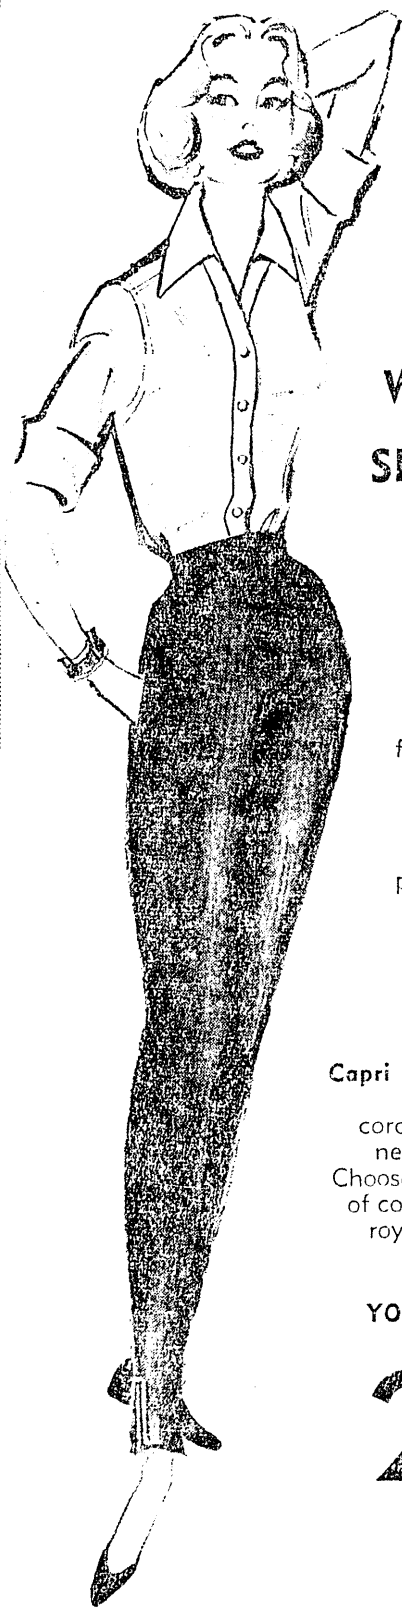

BONN, Germany (AP) — West
Germany and Guatemala agreed Friday to resume diplomatic relations, broken off in 1941 when Guatemala declared war on Nazi Germany. Although Guatemala formally ended the state of war with Germany in 1956, that Central American country did not resume diplomatic relations because of Bonn's insistence on restoration of German property seized in Guatemala during the war.

CALLS FOR EXPERIMENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading educator called Friday for "radical experimentation" by U.
S. colleges to find new ways of teaching the seven million students who will be knocking at their doors in 1970. Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Oregon and chairman of the American Council on Education, said some of the "sacred cows of academia" would have to be put out to pasture if colleges were to meet the expanded responsibilities which face them a decade hence.

ellite information from them.

Doctor of technology Prof. Pokrovsky told Tass, the official Soviet news agency, that the earth-to-space control over the Lunik III rocket now in orbit "is a new and important stage in the development of Soviet astronautics."

At the same time, Eugeny Fedorov, director of the Institute of Applied Geophysics, charged that although America's Discoverer series of satellites "carry considerably larger instruments and carry out a broad program of measurements," U.S. scientists have kept the information from the Russians.

"American scientists have not disclosed anything about this program," he charged. "They do not disclose the ephemeris (position in space) of those Sputniks nor the transmitter frequencies necessary to carry on observations."

Fedorov said the Americans told Soviet scientists their satellites were not part of the International Geophysical Year, which provided for international exchange of space information.

(Western scientists have charged repeatedly that the Russians are not always forthcoming with detailed data on their own space vehicles.)

Pokrovsky said that in addition to the controls developed for the moon rocket, Soviet scientists have produced powerful propulsion systems that could carry a one-ton payload into cosmic space, between the orbits of Mars and Venus.

"In these conditions it was possible to effect cosmic flights of up to 248,400,000 miles from the earth — that is, approximately 1,000 times farther than the distance from the earth to the moon," he said.

Another scientist, Alexander

Bakulev, president of the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences, said that men would be put into space only when Soviet scientists were sure that the health and life of the space ship's crew was in no danger.

Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Our child gave their father some beautiful french cuff shirts and links for his birthday. Every time he puts on one of these shirts he fumbles so helplessly trying to insert the links with one hand, that he swears he'll never wear them again. Could you explain how to simplify this little task?

Mrs. B. J. C.

Remember, two hands are better than one. Trying to fold the cuff and insert links with one hand after the shirt is on is hard on the nerves as well as the cuffs. The links should be slipped into one side of the cuffs before putting on the shirt, while both hands are free. Then, after getting into the shirt, it's relatively easy to complete the job.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Are the styles in eastern schools much different than those worn in other parts of the country? After recently purchasing a fairly extensive wardrobe, I decided to transfer from a midwest university to one in the east. Do you think I will have any problem?

Encephalitis Not Unusual In State Area

SHREVEPORT (Special) — A physician said here last night that cases of encephalitis in Louisiana during the summertime are not unusual.

He said there are normally some cases, although thus far they have been of a "less serious" nature than the disease that has killed a number of persons in New Jersey this fall.

He said possibly the type prevalent in New Jersey is caused by mosquito bites. It is called "eastern equine", he added.

TYPES

The type that has been suspected in the hospitalization of 10 persons from the northeast Louisiana area, he reported, may be the coxsackie strain, which is probably contracted through the respiratory system.

He said the hospital for which he works has had two or three cases of encephalitis this summer. The patients usually recover in a few weeks, he added.

Nine children in one family from Ft. Necessity were suspected of having encephalitis and were hospitalized Oct. 1. All but one of the children have been released and considered cured.

Another suspected encephalitis victim from Bastrop is reported doing well and Monroe doctors say she will probably be released soon.

"So far, we haven't had any encephalitis cases like those in New Jersey—and I sure hope our luck holds," the Shreveport doctor said.

Two Members Of Opry Troupe Killed In Crash

EVANSTON, Wyo. (AP) — Two members of the Grand Old Opry troupe were killed in a head-on automobile collision near here Friday.

The dead were identified by Coroner Gilbert Bills as Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Sullivan, 37, of Hendersonville, Tenn., and Phillip Sullivan, 33, Madison, Tenn.

Mrs. Sullivan's husband, Rollin Sullivan, 40, also a member of the Western band and dancing group, was in serious condition in an Evanston hospital with shoulder injuries.

Ronald B. Terry, 29, of Green River, Wyo., driver of the other car, was in a critical condition with a broken hip.

Bills said the Grand Old Opry troupe was en route from Lander, Wyo., to a performance in Nevada.

Mrs. Sullivan was driving the car and her brother-in-law, Phillip, was riding in the front seat. Rollin Sullivan was in the back seat.

West Germany And Guatemala Declare Truce

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany and Guatemala agreed Friday to resume diplomatic relations, broken off in 1941 when Guatemala declared war on Nazi Germany. Although Guatemala formally ended the state of war with Germany in 1956, that Central American country did not resume diplomatic relations because of Bonn's insistence on restoration of German property seized in Guatemala during the war.

CALLS FOR EXPERIMENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading educator called Friday for "radical experimentation" by U. S. colleges to find new ways of teaching the seven million students who will be knocking at their doors in 1970. Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Oregon and chairman of the American Council on Education, said some of the "sacred cows of academia" would have to be put out to pasture if colleges were to meet the expanded responsibilities which face them a decade hence.

Red Leaders Praise Moon Rocket Bit

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet scientists Friday praised their moon rocket as "a big leap ahead of U.S. astronautics" and accused the Americans of withholding satellite information from them.

Doctor of technology Prof. Pokrovsky told Tass, the official Soviet news agency, that the earth-to-space control over the Lunik III rocket now in orbit "is a new and important stage in the development of Soviet astronautics."

At the same time, Eugeny Fedorov, director of the Institute of Applied Geophysics, charged that although America's Discoverer series of satellites "carry considerably larger instruments and carry out a broad program of measurements," U.S. scientists have kept the information from the Russians.

"American scientists have not disclosed anything about this program," he charged. "They do not disclose the ephemeris (position

Platitudes Of Friendship

Following Premier Khrushchev's visit to the United States, he passed through Moscow and then flew on to Peking to celebrate the anniversary of Red China's revolution.

Many observers in this country and elsewhere have held out for hopes that eventually a split would develop between Russia and the mushrooming satellite, Red China. While Mao Tse Tung and Khrushchev voiced only stock in trade platitudes of friendship, there emerged nothing from the meetings to strengthen hopes of a Russian-Chinese break.

Secretary of State Christian Herter commented to newsmen as he reviewed notes on the Camp David talks between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev and the subsequent Russian Premier's visit to Red China:

"I would say that I can see no visible easing of tensions between the Chinese Communists and ourselves."

The other side of the picture has brought up much food for thought, none of which stood the test of historic happenings.

At the time the Red Chinese were pushing the nationalist armies of Chiang Kai-shek off the Asiatic mainland, in 1946, many American observers and officials of the Communist movement there as an "agrarian reform" with no basic connection with Moscow.

Later, many officials and persons with business interests in China labored under the impression — based perhaps on more optimism than fact — that Russia would come to fear the population growth and industrial expansion in Red China.

But the Korean War saw the Chinese Communists throw their weight behind the North Korean forces which had been routed by the U. N. troops under General MacArthur. Here was a case of how far these "platitudes of friendship" will go when one Communist country is ordered by the Party to defend another.

It is interesting to note the same elements in this country are now basing new hopes on differences of opinion expressed at the Chinese celebration. Khrushchev voiced this was no time for a test of strength between major world powers. Mao Tse-tung continued to push last year's line that the United States was a nation of warmongers and that Formosa must be taken from American control.

Admittedly, these "differences" of outspoken opinion are interesting. But only insofar as they represent two gears in the Communist machine as being slightly out of mesh. Only last spring Khrushchev was voicing the same line as Red China is now with an "ultimatum" for western evacuation of West Berlin by May 24. So Russia and Red China are not so much at "outs" with one another. China merely picked up the latest "get tough" line some five months late.

The bonds among Russia, Red China and all the Communist nations are alliances sworn on the principles of Marx and Lenin. The friendships may lapse into platitudes on occasions, but it would be wishful thinking to foresee a major split between Red China and the Soviet Union at this time.

Revolution Supported

In most countries, revolt is treason and treason, if the culprit is apprehended, is likely to mean death. Yet, revolts against dictatorships are inevitable, no matter how cruel and ruthless the methods of the dictators may be.

Upholding revolution as a just and only means of restoring democratic government, once a country has fallen into the hands of a dictator, Dr. Albert Gainza Paz, president of the Inter-American Press Association, speaking in San Francisco, said the only way to get rid of Latin American dictatorships is by revolution.

Gainza Paz, publisher of Argentina's La Prensa, has had wide personal experience with dictatorships. He was exiled from Argentina from 1951 to 1955 during the regime of President Juan Peron.

He said that eventually armies and navies of dictatorial countries become aware of outrages committed by the governments and revolt.

This, of course, is where the chief hope of a successful revolution in any country lies — in the military. Private citizens alone are not able to overthrow a dictatorship which has the support of its armed services, but once the people, by their sacrifices and willingness to die for a cause they believe just, win the sympathies of the military forces, the reign of the dictator is likely to be short-lived.

Commenting on the situation in Latin America, Gainza Paz said:

"Eventually, I have no doubt, these regimes will be overthrown. The younger officers get nauseated with the situation."

Gainza Paz told newsmen that the best way for publishers in the western hemisphere to fight dictators is to publicize their activities. He continued:

"I think dictators are very sensitive to public opinion. Dictators would like to see what they do in their own countries ignored on the outside.

people forget and people do forget very easily."

The Inter-American Press Association attempts to publicize the lack of press freedom in certain countries in its statements and sends letters to dictators urging them to remove censorship and similar practices.

Gainza Paz listed Paraguay, Bolivia, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic as countries lacking in press freedom. He stated, however, that the freedom of the press situation has improved in the last two years.

Right now a fight for freedom of the press is going on in Cuba, where Fidel Castro, the dictator, has launched a violent attack upon the press.

We know that as the world progresses, dictatorships will fall, just as they have always done down through history.

As far as our own country — the United States — is concerned, it will be far better and easier to maintain a democracy than to let it slip away from us and then try to regain it.

Herbert L. French, 73 of Chelmsford, Mass., believes he is America's only wood inlay restorer.

Woods with which he works include coco bala, black ebony, yew, camphor, white holly and zebra. Some of the wood is only 1/100 of an inch thick.

Junior Fire Captain Jeremiah Sullivan of Buffalo, N.Y., learned there are times it is harder to sit at headquarters than to be at the scene of a fire. He spent some anxious moments while his company was out at a $1,500 fire in Sullivan's home.

Polls Often In Error

Some Candidates Run Because Of Expectation Of Winning, Not Because Of Compulsive Desire

As the campaign for the presidential election approaches, the pollsters are getting busy and aspirants are taking secret polls. That slip of the tongue in the Rockefeller camp, that Nelson Rockefeller would wait until the polls told him what to do, although denied, was characteristic of the new type of candidate who does not run because he has a compulsive desire to serve a cause but because he calculates that he can make it.

Human events have made available an analysis of the pollsters by Jules Abels. It contains this interesting episode: "Harold Stassen told me that he visited (Thomas E.) Dewey at his farm at Pawling in July after his nomination and warned him that he faced a formidable foe in Truman. Dewey, smiling, pulled out an advance copy of Roper's announcement and said 'My job is to prevent anything from rocking the boat.'"

As everybody knows, Dewey was not elected. Harry Truman apparently rocked the boat without the aid of the pollsters. Many explanations have been offered over the years for the failure of the polls in 1948 to measure the Truman strength accurately. The answer, of course, is the very small sample which the pollsters take. They calculate mathematically that the small sample will provide a sufficient cross-section of the country to warrant the percentages which they produce by a mathematical formula. A computer may help to make an atom bomb but it cannot equate a human emotion.

Two assumptions must be included in any such formula. One is that there is a type, even a stereotype; that it is possible to say that A is an accountant, earning $20,000 a year, lives with a wife and two children in a suburb and that he is a Republican. Therefore, there must be so many thousands of A's and if A says he prefers Rockefeller to Nixon, then all these thousands of A's will be for Rockefeller. Abels says: "In 1948 Gallup used 61,674 interviews over a period of two months. In Massachusetts in 1948 the interviews used only 989 persons out of a vote of 2,153,246. A small sample may be sufficient to decide whether chocolate bars are better with almonds or peanuts, but not about the changes that occur in the mind of man.

The difficulty is that A is a very complex figure in a free society. He may be a Mason, a Rotarian, a Kiwanian, a Knight of Columbus, a Zionist, an anti-Semite, a Negro, a Pole, all kinds of combinations of relationships. In a presidential campaign, all sorts of words may be spoken which affect a man's inner nature. He is constantly changing his mind.

Politicians often say that they can tell in September how the election will turn out in November, but there is many a slip during the campaign. Wendell Willkie looked like a great white hope when he was nominated in 1940, particularly as a third term is normally offensive to Americans. But Roosevelt broke that tradition and was even elected for a fourth term despite his obviously weakened physical condition during the campaign. Was Roosevelt's popularity due entirely to Roosevelt's personality or did many other factors enter into the firming of the Roosevelt vote? One of these factors undoubtedly was the disappointment of professional Republicans with Willkie.

Jules Abels makes this correct evaluation: "Gallup listed religion among the more than nine factors used as controls in quota sampling. But in 1948, the decisive factor in Massachusetts was the Catholic vote. Certainly the 989 ballots from which he drew his conclusions could not have given proper weight to the fact that a birth control referendum brought more Catholics than non-Catholics out to vote. The case of Massachusetts in 1948 illustrates that to draw an accurate sample the pollster must make his own value judgment as to what the impact of the various issues will be. That is opinion, not science."

Polling is not science; it is estimating; it is guessing. It may come close to being right because the polls are generally handled by intelligent men. It was the polls that prevented Robert A. Taft from being nominated in 1952; yet most Republicans preferred him to General Dwight D. Eisenhower whom they did not then know as a Republican. If the two parties are to be distinctly different, as they should be in a free country, polls serve no beneficial purpose.

Your Golden Day

GOD grant you every blessing on Your Golden Wedding Day
You both deserve the highest praise... Along your happy way
Fifty years together now... Still walking arm in arm
Sharing all your smiles and tears... Life with all its charm Together in your dreams come true... Beyond the seven seas... With kisses and embraces and... The sweetest memories... Memories of long ago... When first you met and blushed... While all the world became your own
And every sound was hushed... May this your anniversary... Be really filled with gold... As much as all the happiness... The human heart can hold.

Parkinson's Ills

Methods Given For Telling When Patient Benefits By Operation

Mr. T. F., of Miami, Florida, writes: "In a previous column you mentioned the new operations — (Chemothalamectomy) — for Parkinson's Disease as performed by Dr. Irving Cooper of New York University Bellevue Medical Center in New York City. Could you make clear which cases are suitable for operation?"

ANSWER: I can answer that best by quoting Dr. Cooper fully. In answer to a question put to him in an article for Medical News, asking how he selected cases for operation he said:

"By means of a complete pre-operative work-up, including a battery of psychological and motor co-ordination tests administered by psychologists.

"We consider the severity as well as the type of the patient's disease, and his age. We try to select patients whose complaints are tremor and rigidity. In patients disabled by other major complaints surgery will be less beneficial.

"Also it's necessary to avoid operating on patients with organic mental deterioration. We can still relieve tremor and rigidity in these cases. But they cannot spare any brain cells; the small amount of damage caused by the operation which is well tolerated by other patients, may make the patient with mental deterioration worse.

"However we can operate successfully on very advanced Parkinsonians who have the right type of disease and are relatively young — 45 or 60 or less. But patients over 65 should be operated upon before their disease becomes far advanced, because their rehabilitation is then very difficult."

TURTLE TEARS

You have heard of crocodile tears; now hear of shedding turtle tears.

Turtles' kidneys cannot eliminate high concentrations of salts and their skins cannot eliminate any salt. Therefore nature has given them salt glands near the eye which secrete fluids that double the concentration of salt in the sea water which they drink. (All this according to studies by Dr. K. Schmidt - Nielson of North Carolina and an associate in Sweden).

INTERESTING REPORT FROM ENGLAND

Dr. H. R. Vickers and associates discovered the cause of dermatitis in two patients. It was due to drinking milk from cows recently treated with penicillin. The doctors suggested that no milk from penicillin-treated cows be sold until 72 hours after the last injection.

ORNASE AND DIABINESE

Mr. K. H. of Tacoma, Washington, says he has a mild form of diabetes which was discovered when he was in his forties.

"My doctor put me on Ornase, which seems to do the trick. I am certainly thankful that I don't have to stick myself with a needle every day.

"Lately I have been hearing of an even newer drug called Diabinese. Is it better?"

ANSWER: From what I know, each of these drugs is effective — when indicated. That's entirely up to your doctor. If your present drug is effective, why think of changing until your doctor says so?

We can all be thankful that these "oral" diabetic drugs have ushered in a new era in the management of this disease.

Pension Buying

No Funds Of This Kind In Stock Market When 1929 Crash Came

On this day, in October of 1929, there were no giant corporation pension funds in Wall Street buying stocks for income and profit. For, odd as it may seem to the millions of younger Americans who think we've always had pensions to protect us in our older years, as a practical matter there were no pension funds in our land as recently as 1929.

Now, though, corporation pension funds alone hold over $9 billion of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange. In the past decade, pension funds have increased their ownership of stocks 17.20 per cent!

On this day, 30 years ago, there were no mutual funds in Wall Street investing day after day the savings of millions of us in long lists of stocks for income and profit. The investment company movement had been born, but it was an infant, and it was to be all but destroyed in the stock market collapse of 1929-32.

Now, mutual funds alone hold $10.6 billion of stocks listed on the Big Board in New York, 620 per cent more than they owned a decade ago. Other investment companies hold another $4.4 billion.

On this day, in the blackest month of Wall Street's long history, it was the INDIVIDUAL, who overwhelmingly dominated the stock market. Big or small, investor or speculator, professional or amateur, the stockholder in 1929 was primarily an individual.

Now this is no longer true. A great and growing force in the stock market is the institutional investor — the pension fund, the mutual fund, the savings institution, the life insurance company, the personal trust fund, the foundation.

Here is another of the fundamental distinctions between the markets of 1929 and 1959. And, although no one can yet grasp the full significance of this development, we know it is of towering importance.

On an average day institutional investors now account for one-quarter of all trading on the New York Exchange (against practically zero in 1929). Last year institutional investors bought $3 billion more shares of stock than they sold.

Right now institutional investors hold $45 billion, or 16.3 per cent, of the $276 billion of stocks listed on the Big Board. Just pension funds and investment companies own 3.6 per cent.

And dwarfing even these types of institutional investors are the commercial banks which in their personal trust accounts hold $31 billion of common stocks.

What sort of operators in the stock market are these? They are typically buyers for the long term, choosing stocks that they expect over the years will grow in value as the nation grows.

They are typically indifferent to intermediate, temporary price fluctuations, and are not under pressure to sell in any particular market.

They are typically holders of high-grade securities, representing established corporations which have proved their worth.

They are typically continuous buyers, investing funds as they receive them, and buying securities both on price rises and declines.

Each characteristic emphasizes more than the last how dramatically different the institutional investor is from the individual — particularly from the individual speculator.

What, then, does this development imply?

It suggests that a new, professional force has entered the stock market since 1929, which should help stabilize prices. During last month's stock price break, for instance, many mutual funds went on a buying spree.

It suggests that the individual is being replaced in many instances by the institution and this too should be a force for stability since the institutional investor buying for a 10-20 year pull presumably will be less volatile than the individual buying for a one-two year pull.

It does imply this, in fact, a "new era" stock market.

Daily Devotional

Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. Jeremiah 17:7.

Man is prone to trust himself. But in this modern world, many decisions must be made quickly and there is never a time when the help of the Lord is not needed. There may be no time for prayer and divine consultation, but the faithful Christian can go about his daily tasks with a background of faith in God and Christ. Such faith can, in effect, be "instant" religion that can influence and help in every quick action and decision day after day, making one instinctively do the right things.

Merciful God, our Father, give us the companionship of Thy Spirit in all our waking hours. In the name of Christ, our Lord, we pray. Amen.

Platitudes Of Friendship

Following Premier Khrushchev's visit to the United States, he passed through Moscow and then flew on to Peiping to celebrate the anniversary of Red China's revolution.

Many observers in this country and elsewhere have held out for hopes that eventually a split would develop between Russia and the mushrooming satellite, Red China. While Mao Tse Tung and Khrushchev voiced only stock in trade platitudes of friendship, there emerged nothing from the meetings to strengthen hopes of a Russian-Chinese break.

Secretary of State Christian Herter commented to newsmen as he reviewed notes on the Camp David talks between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev and the subsequent Russian Premier's visit to Red China:

"I would say that I can see no visible easing of tensions between the Chinese Communists and ourselves."

The other side of the picture has brought up much food for thought, none of which stood the test of historic happenings.

At the time the Red Chinese were pushing the nationalist armies of Chiang Kai-shek off the Asiatic mainland, in 1946, many American observers and officials of the Communist movement there as an "agrarian reform" with no basic connection with Moscow.

Later, many officials and persons with business interests in China labored under the impression — based perhaps on more optimism than fact — that Russia would come to fear the population growth and industrial expansion in Red China.

But the Korean War saw the Chinese Communists throw their weight behind the North Korean forces which had been routed by the U. N. troops under General MacArthur. Here was a case of how far these "platitudes of friendship" will go when one Communist country is ordered by the Party to defend another.

It is interesting to note the same elements in this country are now basing new hopes on differences of opinion expressed at the Chinese celebration. Khrushchev voiced this was no time for a test of strength between major world powers. Mao Tse-tung continued to push last year's line that the United States was a nation of warmongers and that Formosa must be taken from American control.

Admittedly, these "differences" of outspoken opinion are interesting. But only insofar as they represent two gears in the Communist machine as being slightly out of mesh. Only last spring Khrushchev was voicing the same line as Red China is now with an "ultimatum" for western evacuation of West Berlin by May 24. So Russia and Red China are not so much at "outs" with one another. China merely picked up the latest "get tough" line some five months late.

The bonds among Russia, Red China and all the Communist nations are alliances sworn on the principles of Marx and Lenin. The friendships may lapse into platitudes on occasions, but it would be wishful thinking to foresee a major split between Red China and the Soviet Union at this time.

Revolution Supported

In most countries, revolt is treason and treason, if the culprit is apprehended, is likely to mean death. Yet, revolts against dictatorships are inevitable, no matter how cruel and ruthless the methods of the dictators may be.

Upholding revolution as a just and only means of restoring democratic government, once a country has fallen into the hands of a dictator, Dr. Albert Gainza Paz, president of the Inter-American Press Association, speaking in San Francisco, said the only way to get rid of Latin American dictatorships is by revolution.

Gainza Paz, publisher of Argentina's La Prensa, has had wide personal experience with dictatorships. He was exiled from Argentina from 1951 to 1955 during the regime of President Juan Peron.

He said that eventually armies and navies of dictatorial countries become aware of outrages committed by the governments and revolt.

This, of course, is where the chief hope of a successful revolution in any country lies — in the military. Private citizens alone are not able to overthrow a dictatorship which has the support of its armed services, but once the people, by their sacrifices and willingness to die for a cause they believe just, win the sympathies of the military forces, the reign of the dictator is likely to be short-lived.

Commenting on the situation in Latin America, Gainza Paz said:

"Eventually, I have no doubt, these regimes will be overthrown. The younger officers get nauseated with the situation."

Gainza Paz told newsmen that the best way for publishers in the western hemisphere to fight dictators is to publicize their activities. He continued:

"I think dictators are very sensitive to public opinion. Dictators would like to see what they do in their own countries ignored on the outside.

people forget and people do forget very easily."

The Inter-American Press Association attempts to publicize the lack of press freedom in certain countries in its statements and sends letters to dictators urging them to remove censorship and similar practices.

Gainza Paz listed Paraguay, Bolivia, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic as countries lacking in press freedom. He stated, however, that the freedom of the press situation has improved in the last two years.

Right now a fight for freedom of the press is going on in Cuba, where Fidel Castro, the dictator, has launched a violent attack upon the press.

We know that as the world progresses, dictatorships will fall, just as they have always done down through history.

As far as our own country — the United States — is concerned, it will be far better and easier to maintain a democracy than to let it slip away from us and then try to regain it.

Herbert L. French, 73 of Chelmsford, Mass., believes he is America's only wood inlay restorer.

Woods with which he works include coco bola, black ebony, yew, camphor, white holly and zebra. Some of the wood is only 1/100 of an inch thick.

Junior Fire Captain Jeremiah Sullivan of Buffalo, N.Y., learned there are times it is harder to sit at headquarters than to be at the scene of a fire. He spent some anxious moments while his company was out at a $1,500 fire in Sullivan's home.

Polls Often In Error

Some Candidates Run Because Of Expectation Of Winning, Not Because Of Compulsive Desire

As the campaign for the presidential election approaches, the pollsters are getting busy and aspirants are taking secret polls. That slip of the tongue in the Rockefeller camp, that Nelson Rockefeller would wait until the polls told him what to do, although denied, was characteristic of the new type of candidate who does not run because he has a compulsive desire to serve a cause but because he calculates that he can make it.

Human events has made available an analysis of the pollsters by Jules Abels. It contains this interesting episode: "Harold Stassen told me that he visited (Thomas E.) Dewey at his farm at Pawling in July after his nomination and warned him that he faced a formidable foe in Truman. Dewey, smiling, pulled out an advance copy of Roper's announcement and said 'My job is to prevent anything from rocking the boat.'"

As everybody knows, Dewey was not elected. Harry Truman apparently rocked the boat without the aid of the pollsters. Many explanations have been offered over the years for the failure of the polls in 1948 to measure the Truman strength accurately. The answer, of course, is the very small sample which the pollsters take. They calculate mathematically that the small sample will provide a sufficient cross-section of the country to warrant the percentages which they produce by a mathematical formula. A computer may help to make an atom bomb but it cannot equate a human emotion.

Two assumptions must be included in any such formula. One is that there is a type, even a stereotype; that it is possible to say that A is an accountant, earning $20,000 a year, lives with a wife and two children in a suburb and that he is a Republican. Therefore, there must be so many thousands of A's and if A says he prefers Rockefeller to Nixon, then all these thousands of A's will be for Rockefeller. Abels says: "... In 1948 Gallup used 61,674 interviews over a period of two months. In Massachusetts in 1948 the interviews used only 968 persons out of a vote of 2,153,346." A small sample may be sufficient to decide whether chocolate bars are better with almonds or peanuts, but not about the changes that occur in the mind of man.

The difficulty is that A is a very complex figure in a free society. He may be a Mason, a Rotarian, a Kiwanian, a Knight of Columbus, a Zionist, an anti-Semite, a Negro, a Pole, all kinds of combinations of relationships. In a presidential campaign, all sorts of words may be spoken which affect a man's inner nature. He is constantly changing his mind.

Politicians often say that they can tell in September how the election will turn out in November, but there is many a slip during the campaign. Wendell Willkie looked like a great white hope when he was nominated in 1940, particularly as a third term is normally offensive to Americans. But Roosevelt broke that tradition and was even elected for a fourth term despite his obviously weakened physical condition during the campaign. Was Roosevelt's popularity due entirely to Roosevelt's personality or did many other factors enter into the firming of the Roosevelt vote? One of these factors undoubtedly was the disappointment of professional Republicans with Willkie.

Jules Abels makes this correct evaluation: "Gallup listed religion among the more than nine factors used as controls in quota sampling. But in 1948, the decisive factor in Massachusetts was the Catholic vote. Certainly the 968 ballots from which he drew his conclusions could not have given proper weight to the fact that a birth control referendum brought more Catholics than non-Catholics out to vote. The case of Massachusetts in 1948 illustrates that to draw an accurate sample the pollster must make his own value judgment as to what the impact of the various issues will be. That is opinion, not science."

Polling is not science; it is estimating; it is guessing. It may come close to being right because the polls are generally handled by intelligent men. It was the polls that prevented Robert A. Taft from being nominated in 1952; yet most Republicans preferred him to General Dwight D. Eisenhower whom they did not then know as a Republican. If the two parties are to be distinctly different, as they should be in a free country, polls serve no beneficial purpose.

Your Golden Day

GOD grant you every blessing on Your Golden Wedding Day

You both deserve the highest praise... Along your happy way... Fifty years together now... Still walking arm in arm... Sharing all your smiles and tears... Life with all its charm... Together in your dreams come true... Beyond the seven seas... With kisses and embraces and... The sweetest memories... Memories of long ago... When first you met and blushed... While all the world became your own... And every sound was hushed... May this your anniversary... Be really filled with gold... As much as all the happiness... The human heart can hold.

Parkinson's Ills

Methods Given For Telling When Patient Benefits By Operation

Mr. T. F., of Miami, Florida, writes: "In a previous column you mentioned the new operations — (Chemopallidectomy and Chemothalamectomy) — for Parkinson's Disease as performed by Dr. Irving Cooper of New York University Bellevue Medical Center in New York City. Could you make clear which cases are suitable for operation?"

ANSWER: I can answer that best by quoting Dr. Cooper fully. In answer to a question put to him in an article for Medical News, asking how he selected cases for operation he said:

"By means of a complete pre-operative work-up, including a battery of psychological and motor co-ordination tests administered by psychologists.

"We consider the severity as well as the type of the patient's disease, and his age. We try to select patients whose complaints are tremor and rigidity. In patients disabled by other major complaints surgery will be less beneficial.

"Also it's necessary to avoid operating on patients with organic mental deterioration. We can still relieve tremor and rigidity in these cases. But they cannot spare any brain cells; the small amount of damage caused by the operation which is well tolerated by other patients, may make the patient with mental deterioration worse.

"However we can operate successfully on very advanced Parkinsonians who have the right type of disease and are relatively young — 55 or 60 or less. But patients over 65 should be operated upon before their disease becomes far advanced, because their rehabilitation is then very difficult."

TURTLE TEARS

You have heard of crocodile tears; now hear of shedding turtle tears.

Turtles' kidneys cannot eliminate high concentrations of salts and their skins cannot eliminate any salt. Therefore nature has given them salt glands near the eye which secrete fluids that double the concentration of salt in the sea water which they drink. (All this according to studies by Dr. K. Schmidt - Nielson of North Carolina and an associate in Sweden).

INTERESTING REPORT FROM ENGLAND

Dr. H. R. Vickers and associates discovered the cause of dermatitis in two patients. It was due to drinking milk from cows recently treated with penicillin. The doctors suggested that no milk from penicillin-treated cows be sold until 72 hours after the last injection.

ORINASE AND DIABETES

Mr. K. H. of Tacoma, Washington, says he has a mild form of diabetes which was discovered when he was in his forties.

"My doctor put me on Orinase, which seems to do the trick. I am certainly thankful that I don't have to stick myself with a needle every day.

"Lately I have been hearing of an even newer drug called Diabinese. Is it better?"

ANSWER: From what I know, each of these drugs is effective — when indicated. That's entirely up to your doctor. If your present drug is effective, why think of changing until your doctor says so?

We can all be thankful that these "oral" diabetic drugs have ushered in a new era in the management of this disease.

Pension Buying

No Funds Of This Kind In Stock Market When 1929 Crash Came

On this day, in October of 1929, there were no giant corporation pension funds in Wall Street buying stocks for income and profit. For, odd as it may seem to the millions of younger Americans who think we've always had pensions to protect us in our older years, as a practical matter there were no pension funds in our land as recently as 1929.

Now, though, corporation pension funds alone hold over $9 billion of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange. In the past decade, pension funds have increased their ownership of stocks 1,720 per cent!

On this day, 30 years ago, there were no mutual funds in Wall Street investing day after day the savings of millions of us in long lists of stocks for income and profit. The investment company movement had been born, but it was an infant, and it was to be all but destroyed in the stock market collapse of 1929-32.

Now, mutual funds alone hold $10.6 billion of stocks listed on the Big Board in New York, 620 per cent more than they owned a decade ago. Other investment companies hold another $4.4 billion.

On this day, in the blackest month of Wall Street's long history, it was the INDIVIDUAL who overwhelmingly dominated the stock market. Big or small, investor of speculator, professional or amateur, the stockholder in 1929 was primarily an individual.

Now this is no longer true. A great and growing force in the stock market is the institutional investor — the pension fund, the mutual fund, the savings institution, the life insurance company, the personal trust fund, the foundation.

Here is another of the fundamental distinctions between the markets of 1929 and 1959. And, although no one can yet grasp the full significance of this development, we know it is of towering importance.

On an average day institutional investors now account for one-quarter of all trading on the New York Exchange (against practically zero in 1929). Last year institutional investors bought $3 billion more shares of stock than they sold.

Right now institutional investors hold $45 billion, or 16.3 per cent, of the $276 billion of stocks listed on the Big Board. Just pension funds and investment companies own 8.6 per cent.

And dwarfing even these types of institutional investors are the commercial banks which in their personal trust accounts hold $31 billion of common stocks.

What sort of operators in the stock market are these?

They are typically buyers for the long term, choosing stocks that they expect over he years will grow in value as the nation grows.

They are typically indifferent to intermediate, temporary price fluctuations, and are not under pressure to sell in any particular market.

They are typically holders of high - grade securities, represented established corporations which have proved their worth.

They are typically continuous buyers, investing funds as they receive them, and buying securities both on price rises and declines.

Each characteristic emphasizes more than the last how dramatically different the institutional investor is from the individual — particularly from the individual speculator.

What, then, does this development imply?

It suggests that a new, professional force has entered the stock market since 1929, which should help stabilize prices. During last month's stock price break, for instance, many mutual funds went on a buying spree.

It suggests that the individual is being replaced in many instances by the institution and this too should be a force for stability since the institutional investor buying for a 10-20 year pull presumably will be less volatile than the individual buying for a one-two year pull.

It does imply this, in fact, a "new era" stock market.

"Over 500,000 steelworkers and about 200,000 workers in related industries, together with their families, have been deprived of their usual means of support.

50 days against Sammie Lee Foster.

Annie Mae Ballard was sentenced to 60 days on vagrancy.

Reckless driving convictions prompted fines of $25 or 25 days against John Kennedy, Falcon Foster, and Robert Steel.

Forfeiting bonds on speeding charges were Jimmie May, $5; Lion Quinn, $12.50; Jo Ann Redding, $10; Hugh Taylor, $5; James B. Monson, $27.50 and Lillian Welch, $5. Reuben Jones was fined $7.50 or 7½ days on a speeding charge.

3 Lawsuits Are Filed In Local Court

A Ouachita Parish man yesterday filed suit for $36,772.60, as two other suits were filed with the clerk of court to bring the day's total to $50,041.40.

Sam Wesley Taylor, who lives seven miles south of Monroe, off U.S. Highway 165, is suing Jessie R. Coles of Toledo, Ohio and the Travelers Insurance Co. for $36,772.60.

Taylor charges that on Oct. 17, 1958, while Highway 165 was under construction, he attempted to make a left turn off the highway to get to his home and was struck by Coles.

The damages are asked for severe and permanent internal and spinal injuries which Taylor says left him maimed and crippled for life.

SECOND

"The Forge", a Forsythe Avenue restaurant which was destroyed by fire last winter, forms the basis for the second lawsuit.

L. A. West, who owns the Forge, is suing Sam C. Brown and Edmond G. Merhige for $11,250.

West maintains that he leased the restaurant to the defendants for a five-year period starting Sept. 1, 1954, and for another five-year period which was supposed to start Sept. 1, 1959.

The contract has a clause stating if two consecutive monthly rent payments are not paid, the entire amount comes due. West is asking for $750 due since last March, and the entire amount for the 1959-1964 contract, $10,500.

THIRD

In the third lawsuit, J. E. Wilkins and Mrs. Annie L. Wilkins are suing Joseph L. Newcomer and Mrs. Vivian Newcomer, who manage and operate Lucian's Place.

Also sued is Mrs. Elsie M. Webb, owner of Lucian's, a night-spot on Highway 80 east.

The suit claims that Mrs. Wilkins stepped on a lump of ice on the floor of Lucian's, fell and suffered concussion and severe injury to her back. It asks $5,318.80 in damages.

Scholarships Are Awarded

Two scholarships valued at $300 each have been awarded at North-east according to Dean Ralph M. Wilson.

Receiving the scholarships were Aubrey Darrell Patton, 204 Powell, West Monroe and Sandra Kilgore, Lisbon.

PLANNED INTELLIGENCE

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sir Julian Huxley called Thursday for planned cultivation of intelligence to "reverse the trend" toward mentally inferior human beings. Huxley, an eminent English biologist and author, is the grandson of T. H. Huxley, the original support for Charles Darwin, who propounded the "survival of the fittest" or "natural selection" theory of evolution. Modern day life, with its elaborate social structure, "tends to shield individuals from the action of natural selection," Huxley said. "When this occurs, harmful mutations accumulate instead of being weeded out."

Three men saw her jump from the bridge at 4:40 p.m. Monday. Her body was taken from the river at Delta Point at 10 a.m. yesterday, Dr. Edgerton said.

Mrs. Henderson had visited her sister at Greenville, Monday, then took a taxi from the sister's home to the bridge, Hester stated. Greenville is approximately 70

The river twists and turns, so the actual distance the body was carried since Monday was more than 100 miles.

Greenville is 55 miles west of Greenville.
The body was taken to Crothers Funeral Home at Tallulah. A Greenville Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Vaccination On In Russia To Conquer Polio

MOSCOW (UPI)—A nationwide anti-polio vaccination program got under way in Russia Friday using a serum which Soviet physicians said was cheaper and far more effective than the American Salk vaccine.

The Soviet serum was achieved on the basis of one developed by American polio expert Dr. Albert Sabin, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Dr. Mikhail Tchumakov, director of Moscow's Polio Institute, said it cost about half a cent a dose and could be taken orally rather than by injection.

Tchumakov, writing in the Communist Party youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda, questioned the effectiveness of the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, of Pittsburgh, and used extensively in the United States.

Tchumakov contended it was expensive complicated to produce and provided "little effect."

He said 20 to 30 per cent of persons inoculated with Salk vaccine still became ill and he implied that commercial rather than medical reasons played a major role in the Salk vaccine's acceptance in America.

INFLATION, DEPRESSION

LSU Dean Talks To Realtors Assn.

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Dean William R. Ross of the college of business administration at Louisiana State University said Friday inflation, not depression, will be the real problem of realtors in the future.

Dr. Ross told the Louisiana Realtors Assn. convention here "the United States government will not let another depression occur because the people will not let the United States government permit it to happen."

He said the car has been a symbol of a family's standard of living, but more recently the house has become a popular substitute.

He advised realtors, in any instances also subdivision developers and home builders, to include two items in subdivisions—street lights and sidewalks.

Ross said the housing industry in the next few years will begin to follow Detroit's trend toward smaller cars by building smaller homes with lower monthly payments.

The public will be willing to accept less ornate homes, he said, while it goes in more for boats, swimming pools and similar luxuries.

The American people, he observed, "are in the midst of a stampede from responsibility—the salesman who won't sell, the carpenter who won't build and the laundryman who won't wash clothes."

He said this is the age of half-done jobs.

John C. Williamson, director of the department of government relations for the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, predicted the congressional housing bill issues of 1958-59 will be fought again in the 1960 election year.

Williamson told the Louisiana Realtors Congress was looking at the money market "through rose-colored glasses."

The Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance system, he said, "will again be a hostage for the 1960 housing bills in Congress."

Gaitskell Says Will Keep Trying Until Victorious

LONDON (AP)—Smiling Hugh Gaitskell said yesterday the British Labor party had "suffered neither a landslide nor a disaster but a setback" in its vain bid to win power in Thursday's national election.

Party leader Gaitskell made the remark during a news conference: "We shall attack again and again until we win."

The man who had set out to oust Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government made his statement at Transport House—more like Bleak House—headquarters of the Labor party.

Scores of newsmen and television cameramen crowded a small room to hear the defeated leader's explanation for the Macmillan government's runaway victory.

"The swing against us was a very small one," he said. "The losses were in marginal seats only. They amounted to a swing of three people in every 200. They can be recovered."

Officers Finds Jewel Robbers

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—"Turn on your lights," said the cop in the prow car Friday night to the driver of an auto passing him. Suddenly the officer became suspicious, followed the car, and a short time later the driver of the car and his companion were behind bars. They had robbed a jewelry store of $47,000 worth of jewels just before the policeman warned them about their lights.

Contractor Builds Fallout Shelter

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI)—Contractor Ollie King is going to build himself a nuclear fallout shelter. And he says he'll build you one for about $650.

Fairgrounds Reading For Annual Event

Despite the withdrawal of state support of fairs and festivals, the Ouachita Valley Fairgrounds are bustling with activity preparing for the opening Monday, John Birdsong, fair manager, reported yesterday.

"This will be the second year we haven't had the state support," Birdsong said, "and we'll have a fair next year too."

"Not that we wouldn't be glad to have the state 'undo,' the fair manager explained, "but we can run without it."

Birdsong reminded potential contestants that Monday will be "Entry Day" and all entries must be submitted before the 7 p.m. deadline. The fair will last a week.

EXHIBITS

Yesterday Birdsong said the educational and commercial exhibits were coming along fine and will be completed for the fair opening.

Anticipating a huge crowd this year, fair officials are making arrangements to provide ample parking space.

In addition to parking lots located around the fairgrounds, the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce will operate a parking lot, covering about a block, across from the golf course on North 7th street.

Judging of all entries, except the adult cattle division, will take place Tuesday. The cattle will be judged Wednesday.

Underprivileged children of Ouachita parish will be admitted to the fair free on Thursday. Friday and Saturday will be children's day at the fair with admission free to the grounds and reduced prices on all carnival rides.

Book Removed From Sale In New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—Police have removed 10 copies of the unabridged version of D. H. Lawrence's "Lady Chatterley's Lover" from newsstands on the basis of a citizen's complaint that it constitutes smut.

Police Chief Louis Neese said Thursday the copies were taken from news stands where the books was on public display. Several vendors voluntarily turned the volumes over to police.

The chief said the books would be turned over to Mercer County Prosecutor Stanley Rutkowski and would be reviewed by the Mercer County Clean Literature Committee, a citizens committee set up to prevent the circulation of obscene literature.

LONDON (AP)—Smiling Hugh Gaitskill said yesterday the British Labor party had "suffered neither a landslide nor a disaster but a setback" in its vain bid to win power in Thursday's national election.

Party leader Gaitskill made the remark during a news conference: "We shall attack again and again until we win."

The man who had set out to oust Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government made his statement at Transport House—more like Bleak House—headquarters of the Labor party.

Scores of newsmen and television cameramen crowded a small room to hear the defeated leader's explanation for the Macmillan government's runaway victory.

"The swing against us was a very small one," he said. "The losses were in marginal seats only. They amounted to a swing of three people in every 200. They can be recovered."

Officers Finds Jewel Robbers

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—"Turn on your lights," said the cop in the prowler car Friday night to the driver of an auto passing him. Suddenly the officer became suspicious, followed the car, and a short time later the driver of the car and his companion were behind bars. They had robbed a jewelry store of $47,000 worth of jewels just before the policeman warned them about their lights.

Fairgrounds Reading For Annual Event

Despite the withdrawal of state support of fairs and festivals, the Ouachita Valley Fairgrounds are bustling with activity preparing for the opening Monday, John Birdsong, fair manager, reported yesterday.

"Not that we wouldn't be glad to have the state 'unds," the fair manager explained, "but we can run without it."

Birdsong reminded potential contestants that Monday will be "Entry Day" and all entries must be submitted before the 7 p.m. deadline. The fair will last a week.

EXHIBITS

Yesterday Birdsong said the educational and commercial exhibits were coming along fine and will be completed for the fair opening.

Anticipating a huge crowd this year, fair officials are making arrangements to provide ample parking space.

In addition to parking lots located around the fairgrounds, the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce will operate a parking lot, covering about a block, across from the golf course on North 7th street.

Judging of all entries, except the adult cattle division, will take place Tuesday. The cattle will be judged Wednesday.

Underprivileged children of Ouachita parish will be admitted to the fair free on Thursday.

Friday and Saturday will be children's day at the fair with admission free to the grounds and reduced prices on all carnival rides.

Book Removed From Sale In New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—Police have removed 10 copies of the unabridged version of D. H. Lawrence's "Lady Chatterley's Lover" from newsstands on the basis of a citizen's complaint that it constitutes smut.

Police Chief Louis Neese said Thursday the copies were taken from news stands where the books was on public display. Several vendors voluntarily turned the volumes over to police.

The chief said the books would be turned over to Mercer County Prosecutor Stanley Rutkowski and would be reviewed by the Mercer County Clean Literature Committee, a citizens committee set up to prevent the circulation of obscene literature.

Pat Suzuki and her beau who drives a black Jaguar are the most attention-getting couple in the East 80s... The latest scuffle on the steel strike: it's supposed to be over by Oct. 15, according to the very inside insiders... Tuesday Weld, who stepped quite far out of her age class to date John Ireland, is repeating the "older man" scene with Ray Anthony... Actor Sterling Hyaden, a headline-maker when he whisked his children to Tahiti aboard his yacht, "The Wander," despite court orders, plans to return to the U. S. next month. His California lawyers have been working hard on the case and hope to have the charges against him whittled to minor proportions before he has to face a judge again... Faye Emerson is sporting a new hairdo—upset, bang-ish, and complicated—and a new admirer, Jack Herlihy, who is tall, dark and presumably uncomplicated. Goldie Hawkins played Cupid in the romance... The Billy Eckstines are expecting another baby in the Spring.

Former Ambassador Lewis Douglas is ailing at New York Hospital... Steve Allen will revive those ad-lib audience interviews on his new Monday night TV show... a decision he reached after many requests from fans who remembered how funny the unrehearsed feature used to be on his "Tonight" program... Francoise Sagan is putting the finishing touches on her first movie scenario, "Knife in the Hand." The young French writer keeps producing so much material it's hard to figure out how she finds time for those sports car accidents... Tina Louise's mother is reportedly furious at the curvaceous actress's managers for killing the deal that would have cast Tina opposite Cary Grant and just because of a crass commercial disagreement over the fee. Mama is said to feel as what red-blooded American woman wouldn't that any girl ought to pay to co-star with Cary.

George Raft is cruising with Madeline Coubro, the golden-haired Canadian beauty who was linked with Joe Di Maggio... Actress Edna Best, recuperating after dangerous surgery at the Regent Hospital in New York, is well enough to chat on the telephone with friends... Larry Bylden can take many a bow for his distinguished performance in the title role of the TV drama "What Makes Sammy Run?" and so can everyone involved in the production, from the author to the players. Budd Schulberg's script held up marvelously as proof of the old theory that the words have to come first—but the direction and acting team made the show vibrant... Get ready to cry, Fabian may not be able to continue his courtship of Dean Martin's daughter, Claudia, because Daddy is said to object. No word as to the reason... Dictators are getting to be more and more stylish in this country, especially the Iron Curtain types. Tito of Yugoslavia is slated to receive an invitation to visit the U. S. in the near future.

Newport Jazz Festival tour managers are threatening to sue George Shearing for arriving late for his concert at Pittsburgh. They claim some 400 jazz fans asked for their money back when the piano star failed to reach the auditorium on schedule... Milton Berle and Red Buttons, both on health kicks in Hollywood, have lost 10 pounds apiece. Milton's had to have his suits taken in, he's so slim... Eleanor Holm's dinner companion at the Chabond the other night was Herb Barnett, a soft drink company executive. They were saying farewell before he took off for Hongkong. Polly Bergen flipped over Madrid designer Bargas Ichagaria when she visited Spain this summer, and her enthusiasm for his clothes has brought him, among other customers, such luminaries as Princess Grace of Monaco and Ingrid Bergman.

Duke Niles of the disc industry caused no end of comment and eye-popping when he turned up for lunch at the Assembly with a striking Venus who wore her yellow hair a la Brigitte Bardot. And her connection with Brigitte is more than coincidental: the dazzling belle was Annette Stroyberg, who succeeded Mlle. Bardot as Mrs. Roger Vadim. Shopping note: After lunch (she ate a thick steak) Annette bought three electric shavers to take back to her husband and two cousins in Paris.

Sinatra Tangles In Traffic On Sunset Blvd.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Frank Sinatra got involved in a traffic hassle while roaming the wilds of Sunset Boulevard Thursday night.

Police don't know whether to believe the skinny crooner or the other guy. They got two different versions of the ruckus, and both have only this in common—much heat, little light. Sinatra said that a car driven by James D. Kykendahl had pulled in front of him several times. Sinatra waited for the car to stop at a traffic light, jumped out, and delivered a harangue, he said. The crooner said Kykendahl had tried to ram Sinatra with his car, bumped the crooner's auto and took off.

Kykendahl said that Sinatra's car had kept flashing a spotlight on his auto. When he stopped, the singer approached. Kykendahl, who didn't recognize Sinatra, said he figured it was a holdup. He gunned his car for the police station.

Both made it to the station in a dead heat. Officers listened to both but didn't file a complaint.

FAT INTAKE AND ARTERIES D. E. writes: How long does it take for the fat eaten at dinner to reach and damage the arteries?

REPLY Fat shows up in the blood stream within an hour after it is consumed. But we are not certain when or how the arterial wall is affected by this substance.

THICK SECRECTIONS D. L. writes: What is the enzyme treatment of bronchiectasis?

REPLY One of the characteristics of bronchiectasis is the production of large amounts of thick sputum. The inhalation of a digestive enzyme such as pancreatic dornase and trypsin often loosens the tenacious material making it easier to cough up.

GLASSES AFTER OPERATION J. W. writes: After a cataract operation, can a person see out of the affected eye without glasses?

REPLY No. But good vision usually is achieved by wearing glasses with thick lenses or contacts.

SYSTOLIC BLOW Mrs. C. L. writes: What is meant by a systolic blow in a 7 year old child?

REPLY A heart murmur. It may be innocent or produced by a defective valve. Moody persons are exasperated. Today's Health Hint—ing.

Taff-Hartley Act Steelworkers Hit President's Move

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steelworkers—to a man—said Friday night they were against the action of President Eisenhower in invoking the Taff-Hartley Act to get steel mills producing again for at least 30 days.

There was varied and mixed reaction to the President's action in this steel capital of the world. Some Steelworkers said they were surprised; others said they anticipated the move.

A businessman said he thought the President acted wisely; a cigar store clerk said he didn't believe the move would help end the strike; a mortgage firm executive said the Steelworkers might get enough money in 30 days to help keep up home mortgages.

"I don't know much about it but this much I do know—it will put everybody back to work," said Bill Farr, a taxicab driver. "With the strikers back it will help our business. It's been terrible."

Sam Davis, an employee of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., said: "What good will it do. We've been out 37 days and going back to work for 30 days won't change my mind about the present situation. We're behind Dave McDonald—United Steelworkers' President—100 per cent. He knows what we want and we aim to get it if we have to stay out indefinitely."

Pat Decarlo, one of Davis's fellow workers, interrupted to say: "Our morale is still high. If you don't believe it come down next Tuesday when we give out free food to the strikers at our union hall. The companies want to bust our union. They want to take the guts out of our contract. Sure, we'll go back but that doesn't mean we're going to like it."

Other steelworkers said: Robert McCrea, an inspector for 31 years—"As far as I am concerned we shouldn't go back but we have no alternative. I had to go on relief but I am not ashamed of that."

Harry Murray, a bricklayer—"I don't think it is fair to go back under Taff-Hartley. We've got a chance to see for ourselves."

Bob Geddis, a crane-man for 21 years—"It's not right—like is a good look at the Russian."

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, with one eye on the political climate and the other on a tight travel schedule, joined Gov. Daniel J. Danahy in opening up the 1959 state fair of Texas.

Daniel actually snipped the ribbon that symbolized the opening of the 74th edition of the fair. Nixon snipped a ribbon opening the general exhibits building.

Earlier, Nixon told a luncheon sponsored by the Dallas Council on World Affairs and the Press Club, which he jokingly referred to as "non-partisan," that the United States would win in its production race with Russia.

"We offer not only bread but freedom," he said. On other topics he said the visit to the United States by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was a profitable visit. He said it provided the opportunity to remove the roadblock toward settlement on a peaceful basis of the Berlin situation, gave Khrushchev a chance to see for himself the United States and also gave us a good look at the Russian.

Jimmy Davis Promises To Help Aged

NEWELLTON (Special)—Former governor Jimmie H. Davis Friday promised to seek a solution for the problem of the aged of the state who must spend a large portion of their welfare checks for drugs and other medicine.

Davis advocated the allotment of "medicine money" to those who fall into this category.

Stumping with Davis yesterday were the following candidates on the Davis-Aycock ticket: C. C. "Taddy" Aycock for lieutenant governor; Rufus D. Hayes, commissioner of insurance; Roy R. Theriot, state comptroller; Dave L. Pearce, commissioner of agriculture; and Jimmy Fontenot, independent candidate for state custodian of voting machines. Ellen Bryan Moore, candidate for register of state lands, was absent from the stump Friday and was attending a real estate convention in Baton Rouge.

BACKGROUND "I grew up in a community where everybody was poor, and I can appreciate what a welfare check means to those who need it," Davis said. "With rising prices, many of those who receive welfare checks find it impossible to provide for their needs. I would again make it my business, with the assistance of the legislature, to increase those benefits as we did before. I would especially try to increase the benefits to those who are in wheel chairs, or bed-ridden, and who must spend a major part of their welfare check for medicines."

Davis recounted his efforts during his 1944-48 administration to attract industry to Louisiana, asserting that there were 450 new industries or expansions of existing plants during his term. They added payrolls totaling $70,000,000, he said. Davis said that it is necessary to create a favorable climate for industry in the state, and pledged he would do this if elected governor.

PASSENGERS DECREASE CHICAGO (UPI)—United Airlines, Inc. Friday reported it flew 460,683,000 passenger miles last month—off 2 per cent from the same month of 1958.

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, with one eye on the political climate and the other on a tight traveling schedule, joined Gov. Price Daniel Friday in opening up the 1959 state fair of Texas.

Daniel actually snipped the ribbon that symbolized the opening of the 74th edition of the fair. Nixon snipped a ribbon opening the general exhibits building.

Earlier, Nixon told a luncheon sponsored by the Dallas Council on World Affairs and the Press Club, which he jokingly referred to as "non-partisan," that the United States would win in its production race with Russia.

"We offer not only bread but freedom," he said.

Jimmy Davis Promises To Help Aged

NEWELLTON (Special)—Former governor Jimmie H. Davis Friday promised to seek a solution for the problem of the aged of the state who must spend a large portion of their welfare checks for drugs and other medicine.

Davis advocated the allotment of "medicine money" to those who fall into this category.

Stumping with Davis yesterday were the following candidates on the Davis-Aycock ticket: lieutenant governor Rufus D. Hayes, commissioner of insurance; Roy R. Theriot state comptroller; Dave L. Pearce, commissioner of agriculture; and Jimmy Fontenot, independent candidate for state custodian of voting machines. Ellen Bryan Moore, candidate for register of state lands, was absent from the stump Friday and was attending a real estate convention in Baton Rouge.

BACKGROUND

"I grew up in a community where everybody was poor, and I can appreciate what a welfare check means to those who need it," Davis said. "With rising prices, many of those who receive welfare checks find it impossible to provide for their needs. I would again make it my business, with the assistance of the legislature, to increase those benefits as we did before. I would especially try to increase the benefits to those who are in wheel chairs, or bedridden, and who must spend a major part of their welfare check for medicines.

Davis recounted his efforts during his 1944-48 administration to attract industry to Louisiana, asserting that there were 450 new industries or expansions of existing plants during his term. They added payrolls totaling $70,000,000 he said. Davis said that it is necessary to create a favorable climate for industry in the state, and pledged he would do this if elected governor.

FIRST LOSS FOR LOBOS

Ball-Hawking Rebels Top Longview In 13-7 Upset

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

West Monroe's ball-hawking Rebels recovered four fumbles to set up their two touchdowns and kicked powerful Longview, Tex., from the unbeaten ranks, 13-7, at Rebel Stadium last night.

Grabbing a fumble on the opening kickoff, Cecil Pirkey's Confederates marched to a quick touchdown and scored another after another fumble in the third period to keep the visiting Lobos reeling for most of the game.

Longview, which had won four straight and was ranked No. 7 among Texas' 4-A schools, recovered briefly in the final period to score a touchdown and had a drive underway in the fading minutes before Leon Miletello, the second stringer that runs like a regular, intercepted a pass to stop it.

Ronnie Perkins, a lowly B-teamer a week ago and not even listed on the program, scored the initial Rebel touchdown on a five-yard trip off tackle to end a 34-yard march. Miletello charged four yards in the third for the second Rebel score, after setting it up with a 40-yard gallop.

John Moses ran for the West Monroe extra point after the first touchdown. Ronnie Farmer, to hold for a kick, fumbled the pass from center and Moses picked up the ball and sprinted around left end for the point. The try after the final touchdown was blocked.

Quarterback Kim Flint passed to halfback Doug Bruner on a 33-yard play for the Longview score and Larry Shoemaker charged off tackle for the point after.

The winners turned in one of their best defensive games of the season to throttle the Lobos. Juch Lobrano, before he was casted in the third period after a tussle with Longview's Jerry Earnhart, recovered the first two fumbles and played a great defensive game. Tozo Green, a halfback who plays in the line on defense, made tackles all over the field, usually behind Longview's line of scrimmage, and Steve Hamm and Kenneth Wilson also turned in sterling performances as the Rebels picked up their fourth victory in five games. The Confederates have lost only to Neville in the season opener.

Lobrano recovered a Longview fumble on the opening kickoff at the Lobo 34 and, after Perkins went for no gain, Moses ran for 13 yards. Perkins picked up one. Farmer overtook on a pass and Moses picked up seven yards and then three. Perkins then shot off tackle for the six points. Moses ran the point after and the underdog Rebels had a 7-0 lead after only 3:03 minutes of play.

Lobrano fell on another fumble in the second period, this one on the Longview 43, and the Rebels marched to the 15. On fourth down with seven to go, Moses could only go to the 10 and the visitors took over.

Longview, which never reached Rebel territory in the first half, used a fumble recovery by Ray Chancellor on the West Monroe 32 to set up a threat early in the third period. The Lobos drove to the 12 but their bad habits returned. Shoemaker fumbled and Green recovered for the Rebels on the 13.

Starting at that point, the Rebels drove 87 yards for a touchdown. Farmer passes to Rred Hooter for 13 yards and to Miletello for 10 to put the ball on the Rebel 39.

Miletello then uncorked his dazzling 40-yard jaunt. He went off tackle, was hit at the line of scrimmage and almost pulled down but shook free and headed for the left sidelines and was finally pulled down on the Lobo 21. Farmer then hit Jimmy Vanzie for 17 yards to the seven, an off-side penalty moved the ball to the four and Miletello went off guard for the touchdown.

Farmer again fumbled the pass from center and Moses' kick was blocked. The Rebels led, 13-0.

Joe Pleasant recovered the fourth Longview fumble on the following kickoff but the Rebs couldn't go this time.

In the fourth, after taking over following a punt on their 25, Longview rallied to score. Bruner, on a double reverse, passed to Larry Seale for 32 yards on the first scrimmage play to start the drive rolling. After an off-side penalty helped the Lobos to a first down on the 33, Flint pitched to Bruner, who took it on the 20, 20' a step on the secondary and went all the way to make it 13-6.

Shoemaker drove off tackle to make it 13-7.

After taking over after a punt on their 18, Longview mounted a mild threat in the fading moments that carried to the Rebel 39 before Miletello picked off a Flint pass at the 34. Farmer ran one play and it was all over.

Moses was West Monroe's top ground gainer with 66 yards on 13 trips with Miletello right behind with 57 yards in six carries for a 9.5 average. Bruner gained 68 in eight carries for the Lobos and Shoemaker 45 in 10 tries.

Neville Topples J-H Tigers, 27-0

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Held scoreless the first quarter, the Neville High Tigers of Monroe exploded for three touchdowns in the second quarter and coasted to a 27-0 victory over the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers here last night.

The victory left only Ruston, Neville's opponent next week, in the way of the Monroe school's

Quarterback Joe Turner passed to halfback Joe Case for 27 yards and the first Neville TD. Minutes later Case passed to Julius Haddad in the end zone, and the third score of the quarter was counted when reserve end Hershel Walker picked up a J-H fumble on the Jackson Tigers' ten and took it over. Case kicked his third point of the period to give Neville a 21-0 bulge at the half.

The last touchdown was tallied in the final quarter when Case, running from the quarterback slot, skirted left end on a keeper for 21 yards to paydirt. He missed the try for the point.

Neville won its fifth straight against no losses for the season. It was the fourth loss in five for J-H.

Kuston Tumbles Winnfield, 34-14

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Class double-A power Kuston smashed Winnfield, 34-14, for its fifth straight victory here last night, as Pat Shows scored three touchdowns to tip his state-leading point total to 90 points, going 99 yards for one score.

Shows' 99-yard dash came in the final period after Kuston had stopped a Winnfield drive on the three-inch line. On the next play, Shows dashed all the way for his third TD.

Shows gained 240 yards for a 12.6 average during the game and completed three of four passes for 121 more yards and a touchdown.

Fullback Wallace Martin of Ruston gained 90 yards for a miffy 15.0 average.

Martin ran 65 yards in the first period for the game's initial touchdown and Shows went 22 yards for a score in the second.

Shows passed to Jerry Hood on an 80-yard scoring play, also in the second.

Early in the third stanza, Shows climaxed an 81-yard march by going three yards into the end zone.

With the score 27-0, Winnfield scored in the third when Mike Timmerello passed 33 yards to end Tommy Wyatt. Rusty Melton ran over the PAT.

1-AAA TUSSLE

Lions Rebound In Second Half To Whip Rams, 8-3

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Ouachita's upstart Lions, shackled by a case of first half jitters, battled back in the final half on a touchdown pass from Bobby Hendrix to Tommy Winkler to squeeze past the butter-fingered Bastrop Rams, 8-3, in a district 1-AAA contest here Friday night.

The Rams held a 3-0 lead at halftime on quarterback Charles Burks' 12-yard field goal. But the invaders' offensive crumbled quickly in the second half before the hard-hitting Lion line. The Rams gave up a total of five fumbles, four of which came in the last half.

The victory was the third of the season for Coach Bob Ellen's yearling Lions against one setback. Bastrop now stands at 2-3.

Golden-toed Burks, who did the kicking off and ended up with a 36.6 average on punts for the night, sent the Rams into the lead with 2:10 remaining in the initial period with a fourth-down field goal from 12 yards out.

Ouachita, which netted only 17 yards rushing in the first half, was a new club in the third and fourth stanzas. They dominated play in the third, racking up six first downs and launching the winning drive in the fleeting minutes of the quarter.

A once-in-a-lifetime play occurred to get the Lions rolling.

Hendrix completed 5 of 12 passes for 89 yards, with Winkler on the receiving end three-times.

Ouachita end Ervin Bates played a tremendous game both offensively and defensively. In the fourth period Mahoney deflected a Burks pass to Bates for a beautiful interception.

Rambin, Harry Crowe, Solomon and R. W. Kimball turned in fine defensive efforts for the Lions. For Bastrop on defense it was tackle Dan Irby and guards Bobby Coston and Jerry Bailey.

Quarterback Kim Flint passed to halfback Doug Bruner on a 33-yard play for the Longview score and Larry Shoemaker charged off tackle for the point after.

The winners turned in one of their best defensive games of season to throttle the Lobos. Butch Lobrano, before he was ousted in the third period after a tussle with Longview's Jerry Earnhart, recovered the first two fumbles and played a great defensive game. Togo Green, a halfback who plays in the line on defense, made tackles all over the field, usually behind Longview's line of scrimmage, and Steve Hamm and Kenneth Wilson also turned in sterling performances as the Rebels picked up their fourth victory in five games. The Confederates have lost only to Neville in the season opener.

Lobrano recovered a Longview fumble on the opening kickoff at the Lobo 34 and, after Perkins went for no gain, Moses ran for 13 yards. Perkins picked up one. Farmer overshot on a pass and Moses picked up seven yards and then three. Perkins then shot off tackle for the six points. Moses ran the point after and the underdog Rebels had a 7-0 lead after only 3:03 minutes of play.

Lobrano fell on another fumble in the second period, this one on the Longview 45, and the Rebels marched to the 15. On fourth down with seven to go, Moses could only go to the 10 and the visitors took over.

Longview, which never reached Rebel territory in the first half, used a fumble recovery by Ray Chancellor on the West Monroe 32 to set up a threat early in the third period. The Lobos drove to the 12 but their bad habits returned. Shoemaker fumbled and Green recovered for the Rebels on the 13.

Starting at that point, the Rebels drove 87 yards for a touchdown. Farmer passes to Reed Hooter for 13 yards and to Miletello for 10 to put the ball on the Rebel 39.

Miletello then uncorked his dazzling 40-yard jaunt. He went off tackle, was hit at the line of scrimmage and almost pulled down but shook free and headed

WILDCATS ROMP

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Fullback J. D. Busby scored two touchdowns as the Winnsboro Wildcats came from behind to beat the Lake Providence Panthers, 25-13.

Busby counted on bucks over the middle for one yard in the third and fourth quarters.

But the Panthers pushed over two tallies in the second quarter to take the advantage. Halfback Walter Shelton circled end from 12 yards out and fullback Bill Richardson romped 43 yards for the other Lake Providence score.

Hurlon Fairchild ran the point after Richardson's touchdown.

Johnny Sisk, switched from halfback to quarterback, wound up the scoring for Winnsboro in the fourth quarter on a 10-yard sweep to paydirt.

OAK GROVE TIES

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Underdog Oak Grove spotted Rayville a first-quarter touchdown then battled back for a 7-7 deadlock in a district 2-A game here last night.

Coach Woody Boyles' Oak Groves bounced back in the third for a stalemate. Quarterback Ronnie Myrick tossed to end Jim Philley for the six-point. Fullback Model O'Neal converted.

Oak Grove's record now stands at 1-2-1, while Rayville is 3-1-1.

TALLULAH-NEWELLTON

TALLULAH, La. (Special) — The Tallulah High Trojans celebrated homecoming with a 37-19 victory over Newellton's Bears here last night.

Newellton scored in the second quarter on a 67-yard pass play. Humphreys throwing to Cannon, tallied another in the third when Tatum rammed 65 up the middle, and counted again when Tatum scooped up a Tallulah fumble and romped 35 yards in the last period. Tatum added the point after his last TD to equal Fairbanks in point production.

DELIHI 31, HOLLY RIDGE 0 — HOLLY RIDGE, La. (Special) — The unbeaten Delhi Black Bears smeared winless Holly Ridge, 31-0, here last night in a game, that very much followed the expected pattern. The Eagles had lost too much talent from its 1958 team that went to the state Class B finals.

Francis Copes romped for three Delhi touchdowns, two in the first quarter on 45 and 15-yard trips, and the other in the second period, a 35-yard jaunt. Ken Newton twice crossed the Eagle goal, once in the second period on a 65-yard gallop and again on a two-yard plunge in the third quarter. Charles Hixon added the only Delhi extra point.

Delhi sacked eight first downs to four for Holly Ridge and rushed 'or 269 yards against 89 for the hosts. Delhi completed its only pass for five yards. Holly Ridge completed one of six passes for four yards.

BATON ROUGE, 26-6 — BATON ROUGE (AP) — Baton Rouge tallied three touchdowns in the final quarter to insure a 26-6 victory over Bogalusa Friday night.

Fuzzy Fussell and David Brian figured in all Baton Rouge TDs. Fussell passed twice to Brian for 4 and 33 yards and once to end Braden Beck for 21 yards to account for three touchdowns. Brian scored the other on a one-yard run after a 25-yard aerial from Fussell.

Gus Richard converted after the first two tallies.

Bogalusa's marker came in the second period when quarterback Richard Cothran sneaked over from the one.

Cage kicked his third point of the period to give Neville a 21-0 bulge at the half.

The last touchdown was tallied in the final quarter when Cage, running from the quarterback slot, skirted left end on a keeper for 21 yards to paydirt. He missed the try for the point.

Neville won its fifth straight against no losses for the season. It was the fourth loss in five for J-H.

Ruston Tumbles Winnfield, 34-14

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Class douze-A power Ruston smashed Winnfield, 34-14, for its fifth straight victory here last night, as Pat Shows scored three touchdowns to up his state-leading point total to 90 points, going 99 yards for one score.

Shows' 99-yard dash came in the final period after Ruston had stopped a Winnfield drive on the three-inch line. On the next play, Shows dashed all the way for his third TD.

Shows gained 240 yards for a 12.6 average during the game and completed three of four passes for 121 more yards and a touchdown.

Fullback Wallace Martin of Ruston gained 90 yards for a nifty 18.0 average.

Martin ran 65 yards in the first period for the game's initial touchdown and Shows went 22 yards for a score in the second.

Shows passed to Jerry Hood on an 80-yard scoring play, also in the second.

Early in the third stanza, Shows climaxed an 81-yard march by going three yards into the end zone.

With the score 27-0, Winnfield scored in the third when Mike Timmerello passed 33 yards to end Tommy Wyatt. Rusty Melton ran over the PAT.

Lions Rebound In Second Half To Whip Rams, 8-3

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Ouachita's upstart Lions, shackled by a case of first half jitters, battled back in the final half on a touchdown pass from Bobby Hendrix to Tommy Winkler to squeeze past the butter-fingered Bastrop Rams, 8-3, in a district 1-AAA contest here Friday night.

The Rams held a 3-0 lead at halftime on quarterback Charles Burks' 12-yard field goal. But the invaders' offensive crumbled quickly in the second half before the hard-hitting Lion line. The Rams gave up a total of five fumbles, four of which came in the last half.

The victory was the third of the season for Coach Bob Eilen's yearling Lions against one setback. Bastrop now stands at 2-3.

Golden-toed Burks, who did the kicking off and ended up with a 36.6 average on punts for the night, sent the Rams into the lead with 2:10 remaining in the initial period with a fourth-down field goal from 12 yards out.

Ouachita, which netted only 17 yards rushing in the first half, was a new club in the third and fourth stanzas. They dominated play in the third, racking up six first downs and launching the winning drive in the fleeting minutes of the quarter.

A once-in-a-lifetime play occurred to get the Lions rolling.

With Bastrop in possession of the ball on their own 47, the Rams lined up for a second down play. When center Neil Hohmann casually lifted the ball, Ouachita tackle Bill Solomon, alertly dropped on the piskin and the Lions took over.

Hendrix tossed to end Winkler on a 14-yarder to begin the 48-yard drive to paydirt. With fullback Woody Mahoney and Hendrix moving the ball steadily, the Lions advanced to Bastrop's 25.

At this point the Rams intercepted one of Hendrix' four stray passes. Before the play was completed 200-pound tackle Bill Ramblin dropped on another Ram fumble and Ouachita got new life on the 25 again.

Hendrix picked up 8 yards. Mahoney gained 2 and halfback Bobby Shipp bulled for a yard to put the ball on the Ram 14. Hendrix threw to halfback Ted Smith for 2 yards and then hit Winkler in the end zone for the touchdown. Hendrix' attempted conversion was off to the left.

Ouachita annexed another two-pointer six minutes later when end Billy Cornett dropped Burks in his end zone for a safety.

Burks was in punt formation on his own 10 and the snap from center sailed far over his head. The Lions hardly had the feel of the ball in the first half, carrying on only six series and twice kicking on third down.

Bastrop came close to touchdown alley in the second period when Shipp bobbled a Burks punt on his own 20. Halfback Emmett Irby roamed 16 yards to the four, then lost two yards in two cracks. With third down and six to go Gary Warlick made a fine interception in the end zone to quell the threat.

Hendrix completed 5 of 12 passes for 63 yards, with Winkler on the receiving end three-times.

Ouachita end Ervin Bates played a tremendous game both offensively and defensively. In the fourth period Mahoney deflected a Burks pass to Bates for a beautiful interception.

Rambin, Harry Crowe, Solomon and R. W. Kimball turned in fine defensive efforts for the Lions. For Bastrop on defense it was tackle Dan Irby and guards Bobby Coston and Jerry Bailey.

VEECK PLANS TRADES

Power Hitters Sought By Sox

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The World Series losing White Sox players began leaving for home Friday. Veeck, who said earlier in the week a few not destined to return in 1960 if owner Bill Veeck keeps his promise to bustle in the trading mart.

Manager Al Lopez, already signed for next season, was en route to his home at Tampa, Fla., but Veeck had plenty to say about shooting for power.

"We are going to trade and deal as much as possible to make the White Sox more formidable next year," said Veeck, who took over the Pale Hose helm last winter.

"The main thing we are looking for is added power," Veeck said. "Ted Kuszowski gave us some power last year, but the Series proved there is no substitute for the long ball."

Of the 25 runs scored by the Sox against the Dodgers, 10 were driven across by Kuszowski for a six-game Series record, and 3 came from the bat of the other

Sox "power" hitter, Sherm Lollar, who also drove across one run by hitting into a double play.

Veeck, who said earlier in the 1959 season he did not believe the club, "as constituted now," would win the American League pennant, grinned when asked if he thought the White Sox could repeat in 1960.

"There is no need in being wrong twice," he laughed.

Although Veeck declined to name trading "expendables," it was evident he could and would dip into any department—catching, pitching, infielding or outfielding to get the strong stick man.

Neither would Veeck tip his hand on the specific talent he is seeking, but his sights may mainly be set on the power-packed line-up of the lowly Washington Senators.

"Generally, we'd like to find an outfielder who can hit the long ball, another good pitcher, a third baseman and a first baseman," said Veeck.

"The big bat — boom, that's what we need."

Lopez, before he departed, said, "I'm crazy about speed—I really like speed, but naturally I'll take speed with power."

"You take the New York Yankees success all those years," said the senior from Tampa, "almost every man on their club could move and they had luck bringing up the guys with power."

Veeck summed up the Series this way:

"We didn't have the same chance as the Dodgers. We got licked by the one thing we didn't have in common: Power. It would have been the same outcome if all the games had been played here or in Los Angeles. We didn't have the same opportunity to win."

Wichita Tips Colonials As Young Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quarterback Dick Young picked Wichita's attack off the ground Friday night, pitching and running his team to three second period touchdowns and a 21-0 victory over George Washington.

Young, a 169-pound senior who gives finesse to quarterback sneaks as well as rollouts, pitched 27 yards to Mike Cochran for the first Wichita touchdown and four yards to Willie Mallory for the third.

In between he dashed 19 yards around left end for a score he personally set up with an 18-yard tour around the opposite end.

Wichita, traveling east from its Missouri Valley Conference circuit, thus stayed undefeated in three games and dealt its Southern Conference hosts loss No. 3 against one triumph.

The Colonials moved as far as Wichita's 30 only once in the entire second half and then collapsed once more on an interception.

With Young and his alternate, Dick Johnson, maneuvering expertly, Wichita threatened five times after the intermission but was thwarted by pass thefts, a fumble and suddenly revived GW defenses.

West Virginia Upset By B.U. In 7-0 Scrap

The toss from Emu Dinitto capped a brilliant performance for the big end.

Prebola, who with West New York, N.J., neighbor Jack Stephans had been the defensive rock as the Terriers frustrated drive after drive by the Mountaineers, out-maneuvered two defenders and broke into the end zone to clutch victory.

George Bradley kicked the extra point which proved anti-climactic in this stirring uphill fight.

AT RUSTON

Tech, Southwestern Meet In GSC 'Game Of Week'

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Louisiana Tech and Southwestern Louisiana will clash at Ruston Saturday night in the Gulf States Conference "Game of the Week." Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. at Tech Stadium.

Saturday night's battle, the only GSC tilt slated this week, will find both teams needing a win to keep in the running for the conference championship. Tech's coaches, who regard SLI as the strongest foe they have met to date, term it the "make or break" game for the Technicians in their title drive. The Tech Bulldogs won their GSC opener last week by upending McNeese, 23-0.

Southwestern, on the other hand, will be fighting to keep alive its championship hopes as a loss to Tech will almost count SLI out of the running. The Southwestern team, greatly improved over last season, lost its only conference fray played thus far, a close 13-12 contest to Southeastern Louisiana.

Each team will take a 2-1 season record into the Saturday night tussle. After falling to Southeastern, the SLI eleven defeated Sam Houston, 19-7, and Stephen F. Austin, 22-14. Besides the McNeese win, Tech also stopped Arkansas State, 35-0. Lamar Tech beat the Technicians, 13-6.

"Southwestern will be the best ball club we have met this season," said Tech's head coach, Joe Aillet, who has had the Technicians hard at work on the practice field this week. The coach points out that SLI may be faster than Tech, that the visitors will have size and depth and that the team has been improving with each game.

Tech will pin its hopes on a backfield that has good speed and depth and a line that is a bit lighter and thinner than usual but which has shown rugged action in allowing only two touchdowns in three games and which has kept the Bulldog goal uncrossed the last two tilts.

In the backfield the Technicians have two outstanding halfbacks in J. W. Slack, who leads the conference in scoring with 18 points, and Paul Hynes, All-GSC first team selection in '58 who has scored two TDs this year. Slack has racked up 217 yards and 7.4 average in rushing and Hynes 189 yards and a 6.3 average per carry. Fullback Max Rudd has plunged for 6.1 yards per tote.

The Tech Canines have averaged 275 yards per game rushing and 74 passing and have allowed the three opponents 166 yards per tilt rushing and 49 per game through the air.

Two fellows the Technicians will have to stop if they expect to take Southwestern are quarterback Johnny Arms and halfback Steve Gossen. An outstanding passer, Arms received Little All-American honorable mention last fall. A good punter and runner, Gossen is averaging 45.5 yards per punt this fall, second in the nation among small colleges. The Southwestern line is led by big Royce Whittington, 277 pound tackle.

Southwestern's probable starting line averages 195 per man and the backfield 185. Tech's line tips the scales at 190 and the backs will average 191.

Probable starters for the Tech-Southwestern game are:

TECH — LE, Charlie Harris (195); LT, Bobby Hinton (205); LG, Joe Hinton (195); C, Jim Campbell (190); RG, Don Tippit (195); RT, Bobby Hudson (220); RE, Jerry Hudson (198); QB, Taylor McNeel (195); LH, J. W. Slack (190); RH, Paul Hynes (190); FB, Max Rudd (190).

Meredith Passes SMU Past Tigers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Don Meredith passed for two touchdowns, Glynn Gregory sprinted 57 yards to set up the third and a steel-tongued pass defense kept Missouri at bay Friday night as Southern Methodist defeated the Tigers 23-2 in an intercollegiate game.

Two pass interceptions by tireless Tillery Wilemon halted rough-edged Missouri drives and Norm Marshall gathered in a third Tiger throw to send SMU on the way to its final touchdown.

A crowd of 33,000 watched SMU extended its superiority over Missouri in a 33-yard period to 13 victories, 3 losses and 1 tie.

Meredith directed the SMU offense with deadly acumen and it was his faking and feinting and ability to complete passes while covered that gave Southern Methodist its triumph. He passed for 120 yards during the evening. He also ran across two conversions, thus accounted personally for 16 points.

Meredith faked a run and pitched out to Gregory for the 57-yard dash that set up the touchdown which broke Missouri's heart.

Meredith tossed four yards to end Jim Jones for the first SMU score and seven yards to Henry Christopher for the second. Jim Welch got the third SMU touchdown with a three-yard blast.

The Missouri score came when Russ Sloan, big Missouri end, crashed through to block Gregory's punt in the end zone. The ball bounced out of the end zone for a safety.

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Tickets for the Louisiana Tech-Southwestern State football game in Shreveport Oct. 24 will go on sale in Ruston on Saturday, Oct. 10.

Joe Aillet, Tech athletic director, reports that tickets for the annual State Fair game will be available at the ticket booth in Tech's Memorial Gymnasium from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday. Many persons attending the Tech-Southwestern Louisiana game at Ruston Saturday may wish to purchase State Fair game tickets that day.

There is a possibility that most of the home games will be sold out. An increasing Tech student body and the limited seating of Tech Stadium are given as reasons for the capacity audiences this season.

Sooner Coach Denies Dallas Job Awaiting

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson Friday denied reports that he would quit his position to accept a similar job as coach of Dallas' entry in the American Football League.

The Star-Telegram reported earlier Friday that Wilkinson probably would reveal his plans either prior to or after Oklahoma's game with Texas at Dallas Saturday.

Contacted after the team's arrival here, however, Wilkinson said, "I don't know where those stories get started. There is nothing to it."

Carroll Defeats Jones High, 58-6

The Carroll High Bulldogs trounced the Jones High Warriors of Little Rock, Ark., 58-6, here last night.

Carroll will meet Booker Washington of Shreveport next Friday there.

Wade scored two Carroll touchdowns. Anderson Cheffin scored three. Joseph Long scored three and Thomas Johnson talked two. William Minister kicked all the extra points.

VEECK PLANS TRADES

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP) — The World Series - losing White Sox players began leaving for home Friday, quite a few not destined to return in 1960 if owner Bill Veeck keeps his promise to bustle in the trading mart.

Manager Al Lopez, already signed for next season, was en route to his home at Tampa, Fla., but Veeck had plenty to say about shooting for power.

"We are going to trade and deal as much as possible to make the White Sox more formidable next year," said Veeck, who took over the Pale Hose helm last winter.

"The main thing we are looking for is added power," Veeck said. "Ted Kluszewski gave us some power late this year, but the Series proved there is no substitute for the long ball."

Of the 23 runs scored by the Sox against the Dodgers, 10 were driven across by Kluszewski for a six-game Series record, and 5 came from the bat of the other

Sox "power" hitter, Sherm Lollar, who also drove across one run by hitting into a double play.

Veeck, who said earlier in the 1959 season he did not believe the club, "as constituted now," would win the American League pennant, grinned when asked if he thought the White Sox could repeat in 1960.

"There is no need in being wrong twice," he laughed.

Although Veeck declined to name trading "expendables," it was evident he could and would dip into any department—catching, pitching, infielding or outfielding to get the strong stick man.

Neither would Veeck tip his hand on the specific talent he is seeking, but his sights may mainly be set on the power-packed line-up of the lowly Washington Senators.

"Generally, we'd like to find an outfielder who can hit the long ball, another good pitcher, a third baseman and a first baseman," said Veeck.

"The big bat — boom, that's what we need."

Lopez, before he departed, said, "I'm crazy about speed—I really like speed, but naturally I'll take speed with power."

"You take the New York Yankee success all those years," said the senior from Tampa, "almost every man on their club could move and they had luck bringing up the guys with power."

Veeck summed up the Series this way:

"We didn't have the same chance as the Dodgers. We got licked by the one thing we didn't have in common: Power. It would have been the same outcome if all the games had been played here or in Los Angeles. We didn't have the same opportunity to win."

Tech-Demon Tickets To Go On Sale Today

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Tickets for the Louisiana Tech-Northwestern State football game in Shreveport Oct. 24 will go on sale in Ruston on Saturday, Oct. 10.

Joe Allet, Tech athletic director, reports that tickets for the annual State Fair game will be available at the ticket booth in Tech's Memorial Gymnasium from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday. Many persons attending the Tech-Southwestern Louisiana game at Ruston Saturday may wish to purchase State Fair game tickets that day.

Tickets for the Tech-NSC contest will remain on sale at Tech's Memorial Gymnasium until noon on Friday, Oct. 23. They may be purchased between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on weekdays and between 8 a.m. and noon on Saturday, Oct. 17.

Football fans, especially those coming from a distance, are urged to purchase reserve seat tickets well in advance of all Tech's home games this season. There is a possibility that most of the home games will be sold out. An increasing Tech student body and the limited seating of Tech Stadium are given as reasons for the capacity audiences this season.

Sooner Coach Denies Dallas Job Awaiting

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson Friday denied reports that he would quit his position to accept a similar job as coach of Dallas' entry in the American Football League.

The Star - Telegram reported earlier Friday that Wilkinson probably would reveal his plans either prior to or after Oklahoma's game with Texas at Dallas Saturday.

Contacted after the team's arrival here, however, Wilkinson said, "I don't know where those stories get started. There is nothing to it."

The Star - Telegram story also mentioned the possibility of Wilkinson's serving as commissioner of the new professional league, which begins operation next year.

Wichita Tips Colonials As Young Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quarterback Dick Young picked Wichita's attack off the ground Friday night, pitching and running his team to three second period touchdowns and a 21-0 victory over George Washington.

Young, a 169-pound senior who gives finesse to quarterback sneaks as well as rollouts, pitched 27 yards to Mike Cochran for the first Wichita touchdown and four yards to Willie Mallory for the third.

In between he dashed 19 yards around left end for a score he personally set up with an 18-yard tour around the opposite end.

Wichita, traveling east from its Missouri Valley Conference circuit, thus stayed undefeated in three games and dealt its Southern Conference hosts loss No. 3 against one triumph.

The Colonials moved as far as Wichita's 30 only once in the entire second half and then collapsed once more on an interception.

With Young and his alternate, Dick Johnson, maneuvering expertly, Wichita threatened five times after the intermission but was thwarted by pass thefts, a fumble and suddenly revived GW defenses.

West Virginia Upset By B.U. In 7-0 Scrap

The toss from Emo Dinitto capped a brilliant performance for the big end.

Prebola, who with West New York, N.J., neighbor Jack Stephens had been the defensive rock as the Terriers frustrated drive after drive by the Mountaineers, out-maneuvered two defenders and broke into the end zone to clutch victory.

George Bradley kicked the extra point which proved anti-climactic in this stirring uphill fight.

AT RUSTON Tech, Southwestern Meet In GSC 'Game Of Week'

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech and Southwestern Louisiana will clash at Ruston Saturday night in the Gulf States Conference "Game of the Week." Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. at Tech Stadium.

Saturday night's battle, the only GSC tilt slated this week, will find both teams needing a win to keep in the running for the conference championship. Tech's coaches, who regard SLI as the strongest foe they have met to date, term it the "make or break" game for the Techmen in their title drive. The Tech Bulldogs won their GSC opener last week by upending McNeese, 28-0.

Southwestern, on the other hand, will be fighting to keep alive its championship hopes as a loss to Tech will almost count SLI out of the running. The Southwestern team, greatly improved over last season, lost its only conference fray played thus far, a close 13-18 contest to Southeastern Louisiana.

Each team will take a 2-1 season record into the Saturday night tussle. After falling to Southeastern, the SLI eleven defeated Sam Houston, 19-7, and Stephen F. Austin, 22-14. Besides the McNeese win, Tech also stopped the Arkansas State, 35-0. Lamar Tech beat the Techmen, 13-6.

"Southwestern will be the best ball club we have met this season," said Tech's head coach, Joe Allet who has had the Techies hired at work on the practice field this week. The coach points out that SLI may be faster than Tech, that the visitors will have size and depth and that the team has been improving with each game.

Tech will pin its hopes on a backfield that has good speed and depth and a line that is a bit lighter and thinner than usual but which has shown rugged action in allowing only two touchdowns in three games and which has kept the Bulldog goal uncrossed the last two tilts.

In the backfield the Techmen have two outstanding halfbacks in J. W. Slack, who leads the conference in scoring with 18 points, and Paul Hynes. All-GSC first team selection in '58 who has scored two TDs this year, Slack has racked up 217 yards and 7.4 average in rushing and Hynes 189 yards and a 6.3 average per carry. Fullback Max Rudd has plunged for 6.1 yards per tote.

The Tech Canines have averaged 275 yards per game rushing and 74 passing and have allowed the three opponents 166 yards per tilt rushing and 49 per game through the air.

Two fellows the Techmen will have to stop if they expect to take Southwestern are quarterback Johnny Arms and halfback Steve Gossen. An outstanding passer, Arms received Little All-American honorable mention last fall. A good punter and runner, Gossen is averaging 45.5 yards per punt this fall, second in the nation among small colleges. The Southwestern line is led by big Royce Whittington, 277 pound tackle.

Southwestern's probable starting line averages 195 per man and the backfield 185. Tech's line tips the scales at 199 and the backs will average 191.

Probable starters for the Tech - Southwestern game are:

TECH — LE, Charlie Garis (195); LT, Bobby Hinton (205); LG, Joe Hinton (195); C, Jim Campbell (190); RG, Don Tippit (195); RT, Bobby Hudson (220); RE, Jerry Hudson (198); QB, Taylor McNeel (195); LH, J. W. Slack (190); RH, Paul Hynes (190); FB, Max Rudd (190).

Tulane Drubs Detroit, 25-0, For 2nd Win

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sophomore halfback Terry Terrebomme's 49-yard touchdown run in the second quarter lit a fire under a cold Tulane offense as the Green Wave rolled past heavy-footed Detroit, 25-0 Friday night.

Terrebomme's twisting run brought the crowd of 18,000 to its feet in the opening minutes on the second period and seemed to give the Greenies the spark they needed.

Shortly before the half ended, Tulane added another touchdown with substitute quarterback Bob Cornett going the final three yards.

Fullback Tom McClellan banged over from the one for the third Tulane touchdown and sub quarterback Vance Strange, making his first appearance in a varsity game, scampered 34 yards for the final Green Wave tally.

Detroit's ambitious Titans, anxious to get into big time football, made a poor showing against Tulane. The deepest the Titans were able to penetrate into Tulane territory was to the 46 in the first period.

23 TO 2 Meredith Passes SMU Past Tigers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Don Meredith passed for two touchdowns, Glynn Gregory sprinted 57 yards to set up the third and a steel-tongued pass defense kept Missouri at bay Friday night as Southern Methodist defeated the Tigers 23-2 in an intercollegiate game.

Two pass interceptions by tireless Toney Wilemon halted rough-edged Missouri drives and Norm Marshall gathered in a third Tiger throw to send SMU on the way to its final touchdown.

A crowd of 33,000 watched SMU extended its superiority over Missouri in a 33-year period to 13 victories, 3 losses and 1 tie.

Meredith directed the SMU offense with deadly acumen and it was his faking and feinting and ability to complete passes while covered that gave Southern Methodist its triumph. He passed for 120 yards during the evening. He also ran across two conversions, thus accounted personally for 16 points.

Meredith faked a run and pitched out to Gregory for the 57-yard dash that set up the touchdown which broke Missouri's heart.

Meredith tossed four yards to end Jim Jones for the first SMU score and seven yards to Henry Christopher for the second. Jim Welch got the third SMU touchdown with a three-yard blast.

The Missouri score came when Russ Sloan, big Missouri end, crashed through to block Gregory's punt in the end zone. The ball bounded out of the end zone for a safety.

Missouri threatened repeatedly and its line gave SMU plenty of trouble for three quarters. Only in the final period did the Tigers let down.

It was a rough, hard-hitting game and penalties played a big part. A 15-yard roughing assessment bogged down a strong Missouri drive in the third period but the Tigers had been set up for the surge by a 15-yard penalty against SMU for tackling the safety when he had signaled a fair catch.

Missouri — 0 2 0 0-2
SMU — 7 0 8 8-23

SMU—Jones 4 pass from Meredith (Gregory kick)
MO—Safety Sloan blocked Gregory's kick.
SMU—Welch 3 run (Meredith run)
SMU—Christopher 7 pass from Meredith (Meredith run)

Cowboys Try To Rebound In Tampa Game

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — McNeese State's Cowboys and the University of Tampa's Spartans will both be trying to bounce back into the victory column when they hook up here Saturday night.

McNeese dropped a 28-0 decision to Louisiana Tech and Tampa, which had been rated No. 9 by the NAIA among the nation's small college powers, was upset by Western Carolina 19-8 last weekend.

McNeese will carry a 1-2 record into the game, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Lake Charles high school stadium. Tampa is 1-1, having soundly trounced Troy (Ala.) State 35-15 in its opener two weeks ago.

The Cowboys and Spartans will be meeting on the gridiron for the first time since 1953, when Tampa walked off with a 25-7 triumph in their only other meeting. McNeese won 42-20 in 1952.

Tampa has blazed a fine passing game with a strong ground game in its two starts this season. The Spartans' top offensive performer is quarterback Billy Turner, a four-year veteran. Turner has completed nine of 19 passes for 112 yards and two touchdowns this season. He has also run for one touchdown.

Halfbacks Buddy Williams and Charles McCullers, both 175-pounders, have led the Spartans on the ground. McCullers has carried 18 times for 99 yards, while Williams has travelled 63 yards in nine trips.

Up front, the Spartans are anchored by 210-pound guard Lowell Freeman and 220-pound tackle Gil Rodriguez.

The results:

- 1 — Buddy Eiland, NE, 18:22.1

Tigers Point For Tilt With Tenn. State

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — Grambling's wing-T offense is expected to show marked cussedness in a crucial intersectional encounter with Tennessee State Saturday night.

The offense received top priority Friday in the Tigers' last pre-game rehearsal.

The gold-clothed Tigers purred through the brisk drill, but Coach Eddie Robinson hummed his usual funeral tunes. Grambling will fly to Nashville in two chartered DC-3s for the contest.

President R. W. E. Jones said the team will make the junket without missing a single lecture or laboratory period.

The Grambling entourage, which includes 39 players, 3 coaches, a trainer, a statistician and sports publicity director, will leave Selman Field in Monroe at 8 a.m. Saturday and return immediately after the game.

TECH FANS HOPE PROUD FATHER HAS GOOD NIGHT

RUSTON, La. (Special) — There may be no connection and again there might be.

Anyway, Louisiana Tech football fans are hoping that Bull-dog halfback J. W. Slack will have another good night in the game against Southwestern Louisiana in Ruston Saturday night.

On Monday of last week Mrs. Slack presented the Tech co-captain with a big baby boy that weighed in at 11 pounds and 3 ounces.

As if to celebrate the occasion, Slack played his best game of the season as he helped Tech take a 28-0 win over McNeese State the following Saturday. The Bossier City senior raced for two touchdowns, one on a 52 yard dash, he chalked up a whopping 11.2 yard average per carry in rolling for a total of 158 yards, and he intercepted one McNeese pass and returned it 31 yards.

Slack, who was named to the All-Gulf States Conference second team in 1958, now leads the Gulf States' lead scoring with a total of 18 points.

Tribe Plays Arlington Here; Miami At LSU

Northeast Tries To End Loss String

By BOB ANDERSON

Last season at this time, Northeast was breezing along on a three-game winning streak. The Indians are currently working on another type of streak and they're hoping to break it tonight against Arlington State, a former Texas junior college power just moved up to four-year status.

The two teams, with Jack Rowan's Northeast club trying to snap out of a three-game tailspin, tangle at 8 o'clock tonight at Brown Stadium.

Its lengthy injury list thinned somewhat, Northeast gets its last chance for a non-conference win tonight before jumping into Gulf States Conference competition next week with a home date against McNeese.

Northeast, beginning with McNeese, plays four straight GSC games before taking on non-conference Jacksonville (Ala.) State in its next-to-last game.

Tackle Delmas Thorne, guard Alfred Peeney and center Gary Marchbank will be ready to go tonight after missing last week's game with East Texas.

With the three linemen back and an often-erratic passing attack beginning to jell, the Indians should be ready for one of their top efforts of the season.

Northeast opened with a 15-0 loss to Arkansas State, fell to Delta State, 14-13, and lost to undefeated East Texas, 20-0, last weekend.

Rowan indicates he'll start his Apache club against Arlington with Bob Randal at quarterback, Jim Laudadio and Terry Reeves at the halfbacks and Smokey Stover at full.

Workhorse Stover is the Tribe's top ground gainer with 107 yards on 39 carries. Levy Redden, a little-used reserve last year, is the second best rusher with 106 yards and a nifty 5.9 average. Redden has worked with the Comanche unit.

Randal, a question mark before the season began because of an old shoulder injury, has been the most accurate of Indian quarterbacks with seven pass completions in 16 attempts for 61 yards.

Curtis Cook, who has been sharing most of the signal calling with Randal, has hit on six of 14 passes for 90 yards. Cook, a junior college transfer, has been running at right half in practice this week and will probably see action at both positions.

Northeast's Rowan, trying to get a winning combination, has been experimenting in practice this week. Halfback David Barnes has been shifted to fullback to replace the injured Marvin McManis, out for the season, and promoted the third string backfield, quarterback Malcolm Brewer, halfbacks Jerry Hines and Bill Koener and fullback Barnes up to the Comanche unit.

Plagued by an "old" quarterback last week in East Texas State's 26-year-old Sam McCord, Northeast faces an even older passer tonight in Arlington's Amos North, an old man of 29.

With North doing most of the throwing, Arlington completed 12 of 21 passes in taking an opening win over Southeastern Oklahoma, 25-0, but had less success in the rain last week against Sam Houston, a 3-0 winner.

Arlington, which played in the Junior Rose Bowl in 1956 and 1957, is in its first year as a senior college. In junior college ball under Coach Claude Gilstrap, Arlington has won 51, lost seven and tied two.

With a lack of seniors, Arlington has turned to transfers and has some good ones in halfback Maurice Peterson, a sprinter from Abilene Christian, and Richard

COLLEGE ROUNDUP

Unbeaten Teams Face Big Tests

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Georgia Tech, Texas, Purdue, All are undefeated, highly ranked teams which face their biggest tests to date Saturday of the 1959 college football season.

Of these three, only Texas faces a team that has a blemished record and is not a member of the current Associated Press top ten. That is Oklahoma, with a 1-1 mark and ranked 13th. But the Sooners came zooming back last week with a 42-12 lacing of Colorado after a 45-13 loss to Northwestern.

Georgia Tech, ranked third, meets Tennessee (No. 8) in the South's topper, which is also a key Southeastern Conference game. Tech (3-0) will have to stop Coach Bowden Wyatt's single wing led by little Gene Etter and Billy Majors, who is hobbled by injuries.

Purdue (No. 7) goes after the biggest egg in its Big Ten and Rose Bowl basket as it entertains Wisconsin (No. 9), co-favorite with Northwestern to take football's Run for the Roses. The Boilermakers, ranked eighth nationally in total defense, are without quarterback Ross Fitchner, and must stop the Badgers' seventh-ranked total offense, led by quarterback Dale Hackbart.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas admits he harbors no illusions of keeping the Longhorns unscored upon when they meet his alma mater. But the fourth-ranked Longhorns may be able to match Oklahoma's all-around offensive with their tremendous ground attack led by halfbacks Rene Ramirez and Jack Collins.

The game, tops in the Southwest, is in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, where Texas upset the Sooners 15-14 a year ago.

Top-ranked Louisiana State plays its last non-SEC game when it meets undefeated (2-0) Miami (Fla.). The Bayou Bengals can't take this one lightly for they face a team that is ranked No. 2 in total defense and sixth in rushing defense. Frank Curci, diminutive Miami quarterback, will have to answer the salvos of Coach Paul Dietzel's White and Go team of offense with his fancy-dan ball handling and passing.

Northwestern (No. 2), without quarterback Dick Thornlon, plays Minnesota, which showed surprising strength in walloping favored Indiana 24-14 last week. Thornton was lost in the Wildcats' 14-10 victory over Iowa.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, also with an unsullied goal line, plays Vanderbilt in an SEC game. Ole Miss, with its fifth-ranked total defense, is a two-touchdown favorite. The other member of the top ten in action is Iowa (No. 10) which entertains Michigan State, also undefeated regionally. The Hawkeyes

John, a 210-pound tackle from Rice.

Parents of Northeast students will be admitted free of charge to tonight's game if they register at open house this afternoon or at the players' gate at the south end of the stadium between 6:45 and 7:45 tonight.

Tonight's game is Northeast's third home contest. Three more tilts are slated for Brown Stadium.

Probable starting lineups:

ARLINGTON — Ends Tom Beasley (210) and Wayne Crowley (184), tackles Heinie Pate (210) and Shelby Hudson (230), guards Harry Leimbach (187) and Stuart Helvey (155), center Roger Lowe (185) or Richard Krystlik (182), quarterback Amos North (160), halfbacks Maurice Peterson (160), Maurice Peterson (175) and Freddie Christian, and Richard fullback Kenneth Chambers (205).

Bengals To Test Second Best Defense

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Miami, Fla. brings the nation's second best defense against rushing and a diminutive quarterback ace here Saturday night to throw against Louisiana's State's national champions.

The kickoff is scheduled for 8 p.m. (CST).

Partly cloudy skies are expected over LSU's Tiger Stadium, which also may be cooled considerably as temperatures sink to the 60s.

Coach Paul Dietzel said the cooler weather should work wonders for his already favored Tigers, seeking to stretch their winning streak to 16 games.

"We had the finest week of practice yet," Dietzel said. "I'm really happy about it."

"The best thing is that we found out why we were getting those line-in-motion penalties. It was very technical, but technically we were wrong. Our boys weren't staying at set one full second before the man went into motion."

Dietzel, who pushed his offensive game during drills, had praise for all-America fullback Billy Cannon and his backfield companions, Johnny Robinson, Donnie Dye and Warren Rabb.

Frank Curci, 152-pound quarterback who serves as a calm eye for the Miami Hurricanes, has been the biggest worry as the Tigers prepared to meet their fourth consecutive unbeaten foe this season.

The unpredictable Curci gained 112 yards passing and 20 rushing in Miami's two victories, over Tulane and Florida State.

In total defense, Miami has given up only 143 yards. The Hurricanes have allowed only 78 yards on the ground per game.

But Miami Coach Andy Gustafson's Hurricanes will have to watch Cannon, good for an average of 5.7 yards when he gets his hands on the ball, and a handful of other LSU gainers.

Brown In Final Seniors' Match

MEMPHIS (AP) — Former champion Clark Espeie and banker J. Wolcott Brown scrambled to the final of the National Amateur Seniors Golf Tournament Friday.

Espeie, 60, an Indianapolis, Ind., advertising man, defeated George Dawson, 58, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., 45 years.

Tribe Plays Arlington Here; Miami At LSU

Northeast Tries To End Loss String

By BOB ANDERSON
Last season at this time, Northeast was breezing along on a three-game winning streak. The Indians are currently working on another type of streak and they're hoping to break it tonight against Arlington State, a former Texas junior college power just moved up to four-year status.

The two teams, with Jack Rowan's Northeast club trying to snap out of a three-game tailspin, tangle at 8 o'clock tonight at Brown Stadium.

Its lengthy injury list thinned somewhat, Northeast gets its last chance for a non-conference win tonight before jumping into Gulf States Conference competition next week with a home date against McNeese.

Northeast, beginning with McNeese, plays four straight GSC games before taking on non-conference Jacksonville (Ala.) State in its next-to-last game.

Tackle Delmas Thorne, guard Alfred Feeney and center Gary Marchbank will be ready to go tonight after missing last week's game with East Texas.

With the three linemen back and an often-erratic passing attack beginning to jell, the Indians should be ready for one of their top efforts of the season.

Northeast opened with a 15-0 loss to Arkansas State, fell to Delta State, 14-13, and lost to undefeated East Texas, 20-0, last weekend.

Rowan indicates he'll start his Apache club against Arlington with Bob Randle at quarterback, Jim Laudadio and Terry Reeves at the halfbacks and Smokey Stover at full.

Workhorse Stover is the Tribe's top ground gainer with 107 yards on 39 carries. Levy Redden, a little-used reserve last year, is the second best rusher with 106 yards and a nifty 5.9 average. Redden has worked with the Comanche unit.

Randle, a question mark before the season began because of an old shoulder injury, has been the most accurate of Indian quarterbacks with seven pass completions in 16 attempts for 61 yards.

Curtis Cook, who has been sharing most of the signal calling with Randle, has hit on six of 14 passes for 90 yards. Cook, a junior college transfer, has been running at right half in practice this week and will probably see action at both positions.

Northeast's Rowan, trying to get a winning combination, has been experimenting in practice this week. Halfback David Barnes has been shifted to fullback to replace the injured Marvin McManis, out for the season, and promoted the third string backfield, quarterback Malcolm Brewer, halfbacks Jerry Hines and Bill Koerner and fullback Barnes up the Comanche unit.

Plagued by an "old" quarterback last week in East Texas State's 26-year-old Sam McCord, Northeast faces an even older passer tonight in Arlington's Amos North, an old man of 29.

With North doing most of the throwing, Arlington completed 12 of 21 passes in taking an opening win over Southeastern Oklahoma, 28-0, but had less success in the rain last week against Sam Houston, a 3-0 winner.

Arlington, which played in the Junior Rose Bowl in 1956 and 1957, is in its first year as a senior college. In junior college ball under Coach Claude Gilstrap, Arlington has won 51, lost seven and tied two.

With a lack of seniors, Arlington has turned to transfers and has some good ones in halfback Maurice Peterson, a sprinter from Abilene Christian, and Richard

COLLEGE ROUNDUP

Unbeaten Teams Face Big Tests

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Georgia Tech, Texas, Purdue, All are undefeated, highly ranked teams which face their biggest tests to date Saturday of the 1959 college football season.

Of these three, only Texas faces a team that has a blemished record and is not a member of the current Associated Press top ten. That is Oklahoma, with a 1-1 mark and ranked 13th. But the Sooners came zooming back last week with a 42-12 lacing of Colorado after a 45-13 loss to Northwestern.

Georgia Tech, ranked third, meets Tennessee (No. 8) in the South's topper, which is also a key Southeastern Conference game. Tech (3-0) will have to stop Coach Bowden Wyatt's single wing led by little Gene Elter and Billy Majors, who is hobbled by injuries.

Purdue (No. 7) goes after the biggest egg in its Big Ten and Rose Bowl basket as it entertains Wisconsin (No. 9), co-favorite with Northwestern to take football's Run for the Roses. The Boilermakers, ranked eighth nationally in total defense, are without quarterback Ross Fitchner, and must stop the Badgers' seventh-ranked total offense, led by quarterback Dale Hackbart.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas admits he harbors no illusions of keeping the Longhorns unscored upon when they meet his alma mater. But the fourth-ranked Longhorns may be able to match Oklahoma's all-around offensive with their tremendous ground attack led by halfbacks Rene Ramirez and Jack Collins.

The game, tops in the Southwest, is in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, where Texas upset the Sooners 15-14 a year ago.

Top-ranked Louisiana State plays its last non-SEC game when it meets undefeated (2-0) Miami (Fla.). The Bayou Bengals can't take this one lightly for they face a team that is ranked No. 2 in total defense and sixth in rushing defense. Fran Curci, diminutive Miami quarterback, will have to answer the salvoes of Coach Paul Dietzel's White and Go team of offense with his fancy-dan ball handling and passing.

Northwestern (No. 2), without quarterback Dick Thornton, plays Minnesota, which showed surprising strength in walloping favored Indiana 24-14 last week. Thornton was lost in the Wildcats' 14-10 victory over Iowa.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, also with an unsullied goal line, plays Vanderbilt in an SEC game. Ole Miss, with its fifth ranked total defense, is a two touchdown favorite. The other member of the top ten in action is Iowa (No. 10) which entertains Michigan State, also televised regionally. The Hawkeyes

John, a 210-pound tackle from Rice.

Parents of Northeast students will be admitted free of charge to tonight's game if they register at open house this afternoon or at the players' gate at the south end of the stadium between 6:45 and 7:45 tonight.

ARLINGTON — Ends Tom Beasley (210) and Wayne Crowley (184), tackles Heinie Pate (210) and Shelby Hudson (230), guards Harry Leinbach (187) and Stuart Helvey (185), center Roger Lowe (186) or Richard Krystinik (182), quarterback Amos North (160), halfbacks Maurice Peterson (160) and Freddie Arnold (175) and fullback Kenneth Chambers (205).

The season's first bowl game is set for Norfolk, Va., where powerful Syracuse (2-0) meets Navy in the Oyster Bowl. The 12th ranked Orange have a defense that has allowed only 96 yards in two games, and an offense that ranks second nationally with a 415.5 average.

Penn State travels to Army and Penn meets Princeton in a game that may settle the Ivy League in other top Eastern attractions. The Penn-Princeton affair is on regional (NBC) television.

SOUTH: Chattanooga at Alabama, Furman at William & Mary, Hardin-Simmons at Georgia, Kentucky at Auburn, North Carolina State at Clemson, Arkansas State at Mississippi State, Wake Forest at Maryland, South Carolina at North Carolina, Virginia vs. Virginia Military at Lynchburg, Va., Davidson at Richmond.

MIDWEST: North Texas at Cincinnati, Illinois at Ohio State, Kansas at Nebraska, Marquette at Indiana, Oregon State at Michigan, Iowa State at South Dakota, Colorado at Kansas State, Tulsa at Oklahoma State.

SOUTHWEST: Baylor at Arkansas, Houston at Texas A&M, Florida at Rice, New Mexico at Utah State, Texas Christian at Texas Tech.

State Badminton Tourney Slated

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) —The annual Louisiana State Badminton tournament will be conducted Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17, at Northwestern State College.

Dr. Charles (Red) Thomas of the NSC faculty, tournament director, announced that deadline for entry is midnight Tuesday, October 13.

Entries should be mailed to Dr. Thomas at Box 1026, Northwestern State College, Natchitoches, La.

Bengals To Test Second Best Defense

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Miami, Fla. brings the nation's second best defense against rushing and a diminutive quarterback ace here Saturday night to throw against Louisiana's State's national champions.

The kickoff is scheduled for 8 p.m. (CST).

Partly cloudy skies are expected over LSU's Tiger Stadium, which also may be cooled considerably as temperatures sink to the 60s.

Coach Paul Dietzel said the cooler weather should work wonders for his already favored Tigers, seeking to stretch their winning streak to 16 games.

"We had the finest week of practice yet," Dietzel said. "I'm really happy about it."

Dietzel, who pushed his offensive game during drills, had praise for all-America fullback Billy Cannon and his backfield companions, Johnny Robinson, Donnie Daye and Warren Rabb.

Fran Curci, 152-pound quarterback who serves as a calm eye for the Miami Hurricanes, has been the biggest worry as the Tigers prepared to meet their fourth consecutive unbeaten foe this season.

The unpredictable Curci gained 112 yards passing and 20 rushing in Miami's two victories, over Tulane and Florida State.

In total defense, Miami has given up only 143 yards. The Hurricanes have allowed only 78 yards on the ground per game.

But Miami Coach Andy Gustafson's Hurricanes will have to watch Cannon, good for an average of 5.7 yards when he gets his hands on the ball, and a handful of other LSU gainers.

BENGAL BACK — A worthy halfback companion to all-America Billy Cannon is Johnny Robinson, son of LSU's tennis coach and an all-Southeastern choice last year. LSU hosts Miami's Hurricanes in Baton Rouge tonight.

Espie Battling Brown In Final Seniors' Match

MEMPHIS (AP) — Former champion Clark Espie and banker J. Wolcott Brown scrambled to the final of the National Amateur Seniors Golf Tournament Friday.

Espie, 60, an Indianapolis, Ind., advertising man, defeated George Dawson, 58, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., 43 years.

in semifinal play, 5 and 4. Co-medalist Dawson didn't win a hole.

Brown, 56, of Manassquan, N.J., edged investment broker William Norvell, 57, of Chattanooga, Tenn., 2-up. This is Brown's first try for the USGA Seniors.

The tournament, being played over the 35-35-70 Memphis Country Club course, is limited to players of 55 or older.

The National League pennant winner has won 100 or more games only eight times in the last 43 years.

CROSS COUNTRY OPENER

Eiland Sparkles In Northeast Win

MEMPHIS (Special) — Sensational Buddy Eiland paced the Northeast cross country runners to an 18-41 win over Memphis State here yesterday in the first meet of the season.

The Farmerville sophomore cruised over the 3 1/2-mile course in 18 minutes, 22.1 seconds. He was followed closely by teammate Jack Williams of Tallulah at 18:31.5.

Scott McDill of Memphis State, who finished third at 18:54.5, set the early pace and led about half the way. Then Northeast's Williams took over. With about a mile to go, Eiland moved into the lead and held it.

Coach Lew Hartzog, now in his third year at the Monroe college, said he was "quite pleased" with the running of the Northeast thinclads who took six out of the first seven places.

Hartzog said he was particularly pleased by the performances of two sprinters, Randall Walker and Dick Hays, who finished sixth and seventh.

The run was over a hilly, grassy course in exceptionally fine weather.

The Indians are out to repeat last year's record when they finished in a tie with McNeese as Gulf States Conference co-champions.

The results:
1 — Buddy Eiland, NE, 18:22.1
2 — Jack Williams, NE, 18:31.5
3 — Scott McDill, Memphis, 18:54.5
4 — Bill Frye, NE, 19:28.9
5 — George Abbott, NE, 20:04.0
6 — Randall Walker, NE, 20:38.0
7 — Dick Hays, 21:09.6
8 — James Madden, Memphis, 21:12.4
9 — Ed Trotter, Memphis, 22:03.4
10 — Joe Franklin, Memphis, 23:04.5
11 — Tracy Norville, Memphis, 24:17.8
12 — Lewis Trotter, Memphis, 24:39.7
13 — James Mabile, Memphis, 25:16.7

Tigers Point For Tilt With Tenn. State

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — Grambling's wing-T offense is expected to show marked cussedness in a crucial intersectional encounter with Tennessee State Saturday night.

The offense received top priority Friday in the Tigers' last pre-game rehearsal.

The gold-clothed Tigers purred through the brisk drill, but Coach Eddie Robinson humbled his usual funeral tunes. Grambling will fly to Nashville in two chartered DC-3s for the contest.

President R. W. E. Jones said the team will make the junket without missing a single lecture or laboratory period.

The Grambling entourage, which includes 38 players, 3 coaches, a trainer, a statistician and sports publicity director, will leave Selman Field in Monroe at 8 a.m. Saturday and return immediately after the game.

Cowboys Try To Rebound In Tampa Game

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — McNeese State's Cowboys and the University of Tampa's Spartans will both be trying to bounce back into the victory column when they hook up here Saturday night.

McNeese dropped a 28-0 decision to Louisiana Tech and Tampa, which had been rated No. 9 by the NAIA among the nation's small college powers, was upset by Western Carolina 19-8 last weekend.

McNeese will carry a 1-2 record into the game, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Lake Charles high school stadium. Tampa is 1-1, having soundly trounced Troy (Ala.) State 35-15 in its opener two weeks ago.

The Cowboys and Spartans will be meeting on the gridiron for the first time since 1953, when Tampa walked off with a 25-7 triumph. In their only other meeting, McNeese won 42-20 in 1952.

Tampa has blended a fine passing game with a strong ground game in its two starts this season. The Spartans' top offensive performer is quarterback Billy Turner, a four-year veteran. Turner has completed nine of 19 passes for 112 yards and two touchdowns this season. He has also run for one touchdown.

Halfbacks Buddy Williams and Charles McCullers, both 175-pounders, have led the Spartans on the ground. McCullers has carried 18 times for 99 yards, while Williams has travelled 63 yards in nine trips.

Up front, the Spartans are anchored by 210-pound guard Lowell Freeman and 220-pound tackle Gil Rodriguez.

Tech Fans Hope Proud Father Has Good Night

RUSTON, La. (Special) — There may be no connection and again there might be.

Anyway, Louisiana Tech football fans are hoping that Bulling halfback J. W. Slack will have another good night in the game against Southwestern Louisiana in Ruston Saturday night.

On Monday of last week Mrs. Slack presented the Tech co-captain with a big baby boy that weighed in at 11 pounds and 3 ounces.

As if to celebrate the occasion, Slack played his best game of the season as he helped Tech take a 28-0 win over McNeese State the following Saturday. The Bosser City senior raced for two touchdowns, one on a 52 yard dash, he chalked up a whopping 112 yard average per carry in rolling for a total of 158 yards, and he intercepted one McNeese pass and returned it 31 yards.

Slack, who was named to the All-Gulf States Conference second team in 1958, now leads the Gulf States loop scoring with a total of 18 points.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Love And Protection Will Improve A Child's Actions

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

What is wrong with the relationship of a parent and child when the parent loses complete control of him? We have to admit that something is wrong, and this is the situation to which we should direct our attention. The child's behavior will take care of itself when he feels himself surrounded by love and protection and to hold that love wants to stand high in the eyes of the parent.

Mrs. St. J. writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: I have a problem child and I do mean problem. What do you do with a 4-year-old who stands and curses you, with the foulest language I have ever heard from a child his age? I've done all I know to do, talked, ignored, deprived and spanked. What else is there to do?"

"He has a temper such as I have never seen before. He just stands and grins and defies you to do anything about it. He is the second of four boys in this family and the 2-year-old is learning the same things from him. What is your advice?"

ANSWER

First of all you should get affectionately closer to this boy. Perhaps you have just accepted him as one of the four, without making any real effort to know him better as an individual. He is repaying your seeming indifference by shouting at you to MAKE you notice him. Where he learned the curse words is something you should ask yourself. Does he hear them from some male member of the family?

At four years of age a child is prone to pick up odd words and use them as his own. There is excitement in the new syllables and plenty of excitement when he uses them as your reaction to them indicates.

But he knows very well (unless he hears it constantly) that this is not the way nice people talk. When he talks this way I would show him your disapproval, march him right to his room and tell him to stay there until he can talk acceptably in your presence.

SPANKING OUT

Spanking has little relation to the use of bad language and also further increases his feeling of being rejected by you. What you want to feel is your warm love and pride in him, so that he acts as his own censor when he does something of which you disapprove.

If he finds that you do not tremble at his defiance, but act promptly to banish him temporarily until he can think better about your commands, he'll come to terms. But first, he needs an underpinning of fond affection, pride in him as your 4-year-old, attention to his interests, to make it unnecessary for him to be the center of attention.

Plastic Smock Makes Painting Fun For Child

By AP NEWSFEATURES
School days take the older children out of the house, but the toddlers are left at home, often fretfully demanding extra attention from Mother.

A special project such as painting will give the younger children a chance to be creative as well as to have something of their own to display when older brothers and sisters come home from school.

A wise mother can give the painting project importance by providing a special outfit for the small painter. It's easy to make a smock which will make small fry glow with pride.

Medium weight plastic can be stitched on the sewing machine. Local sewing center experts give directions for a simple plastic smock:

First make a paper pattern. Measure child across shoulders, from underarm to underarm and from shoulder to neckline. Smock should fit loosely around chest and get slightly fuller below. It should end above the knees. Make only one-half of pattern, then use as a guide to cut double-thickness of folded plastic. To avoid pinholes in plastic, fasten pattern with cellophane tape, and tape edges of plastic together before cutting so it won't slip.

Cut a three-inch slit at back of neck opening to fit over head. Cut a five-inch-wide strip of plastic to fit over bottom edge of smock and "baste" in place with tape, then stitch. Use a size 14 needle, normal tension and pressure and a long stitch. Divide in three equal sections and stitch to form pockets.

Add interest by applying designs cut from colored plastic tape. A clown's face decorating a pocket may be made from red, white and blue plastic tape, with three strips of red tape making a pointed hat.

"Bad" boy of the family in order to get your notice.

MRS. GEORGE MALLORY PATTON

Miss Alice Belle Silmon Weds In Camden, Ark.

Miss Alice Belle Silmon became the bride of George Mallory Patton on Saturday, September 26 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Silmon of Bastrop, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Patton of Bastrop, and the late Charles Holly Patton.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Grubbs in the Champion Hill Presbyterian Church in Camden, Arkansas. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery were used on either side of the altar before which the couple stood to repeat their vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing an afternoon dress of Ceil blue lace over taffeta. The bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline embroidered in sequins and three quarter length sleeves. She wore a sequin trimmed hat with a white velvet bow. Her corsage was a single white orchid. Mrs. Ray Dupree was her sister's only attendant. She wore a blue fall suit with pale blue accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of white carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother Charles Patton.

The bride is a graduate of Bastrop High School. The groom received his education at Bastrop High School and Northeast State College, and is now employed in Camden, Arkansas, where they will reside.

Love And Protection Will Improve A Child's Actions

What is wrong with the relationship of a parent and child when the parent loses complete control of him? We have to admit that something is wrong; and this is the situation to which we should direct our attention. ## Handsome Cowboy Hero Also Stars In Kitchen

A lean pantry makes a good cook. The two go hand in hand, says handsome Gene Barry, the dapper cowboy television hero, who says good chefs are born of necessity. Gene learned to create delectable cuisine by peering into near-empty refrigerators during his hush days. It might surprise his multitude of women fans to know that the handsome star of "Bat Masterson" can turn tidbits into gastronomic delights.

"I'm not broke now," he says, "but I still raid the ice box and concoct a terrific omelette or a sensational peanut pie of sorts. My Clams (linguini) is a dish to charm a fish."

His favorite culinary advice:

like Daddy and Freddie want to be a great builder like Daddy. But pride for father brings problems.

"Mike doesn't know whether youngsters like him for himself or me. I told him not to worry, that people love to touch greatness, that in a short time he would know who his friends are anyway."

The Barrys' friends have been made through their children. "Children and dogs can make or break you socially," says Gene. Gene hates to spend money on himself, although he always looks well-heeled.

NO SPENDTHRIFT

"You're looking at a guy who makes a quarter-of-a-million dollars a year and buys his suits on sale. None of these $250 deals for me."

He believes in promoting "Gene Barry," his legal name. He was born Eugene Klass.

"After all," he explains, "I've put a lot of sacrifices into the name. My wife went out to work to try to help me put it over. Keep trying, she'd say, as one door after another closed in my face."

Gene worked for a night, a week, anything he could get. Then a few years ago, it happened—he made the big time.

"I've got more than 25 million viewers watching me as 'Bat.' I've got guest appearances lined up with all the top shows this fall," he says.

Monday Evening Party Honors Mrs. Paul Royce

The home of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Kelly on Bon Air Drive was used in the entrance hall. The setting for a tea shower on Monday, October 5, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Paul Royce, a bride of recent date.

Mrs. Royce was before her marriage Miss Peggy Fairchild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Fairchild.

Hostesses with Mrs. Kelly were Mrs. J. L. Tolar, Mrs. C. C. Kornman, Mrs. E. L. Mazon, Mrs. W. A. Brothers, Mrs. J. R. Cotton, Mrs. E. J. Foster, Mrs. P. N. Edwards.

Greeting the guests on arrival were Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. P. N. Edwards.

Mrs. Royce, wearing an antique green tulle dress accented with a corsage of gardenias and tiny pink rosebuds, her mother, Mrs. Fairchild, and Mrs. W. E. Taylor, mother of the groom, formed the receiving line.

The coffee table in the living room held an arrangement of pink roses in a fluted white and pink bowl.

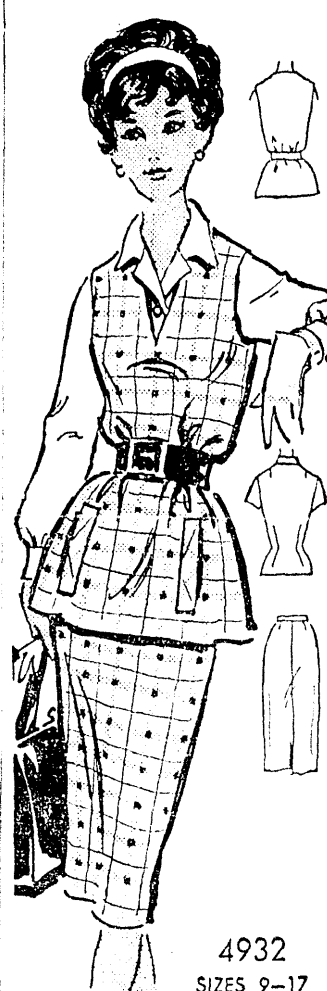

Mrs. C. J. Nichols and Mrs. E. W. Crowley alternated at the punch service in the family room. The punch table was covered with a white linen cloth edged in pink and centered with an arrangement of small pink roses and pink tapers.

Miss Judy Fairchild, sister of the bride, was in charge of the gifts and Miss Carole Nichols presided at the guest book.

More than one hundred guests called during the appointed hours of the party.

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I get along very well but I need your help on something.

Whenever she is talking to me, in order to express herself either more clearly or emphatically, she hits me on the arm. I don't think she realizes she does this. I have painful bruises after spending a few hours with her.

Polio Cases

Continue Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service reported Friday that the number of new polio cases continued to decline last week.

It said a total of 393 new cases were reported for the week ending Oct. 3. Of these, 279 were the paralytic type. This compared with a total of 496 cases last week of which 304 were paralytic.

The weekly report on the nationwide polio count also said there were two deaths resulting from the disease last week—one each in California and Illinois. But officials pointed out that not all states report polio deaths to the Public Health Service.

Friday's figures brought the national total of polio cases this year to 6,417, including 4,013 paralytic cases. There were 4,029 cases during the same period last year, with 1,931 of them paralytic.

For the current week the largest drop-off in paralytic cases was noted in New England, the southeastern and southwestern states. The PHSS also said the number of cases in Kentucky and Tennessee have been increasing steadily in the past three weeks.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Couple Needs Help From Counselor Or Clergeman

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is for the mother of Lollie who wouldn't let her go out with service men because they are "the scum of the earth."

I wonder if Lollie's mother ever stopped to think how much "scum" died on foreign soil so the United States would be safe for her fancy daughter.

I lost two handsome bright boys. One was 19, the other 22. My husband died of a broken heart before the war ended. The only thing that kept me alive was the thought that I had two daughters to raise.

May my sons, and all the other "scum" who gave their lives for freedom, rest in peace.—Double Gold Star Mother

Dear Ann Landers: Joe and I have been married less than a year and we are already having serious trouble.

We went together three years before we married. I admit we fought like cats and dogs, but I thought it was the way people in love ironed out their problems.

During the courtship he broke into my apartment by saving off the lock. He got into my personal letters, tore up pictures of other fellows, and read my diary. He threw my past romances up to me later.

When I got mad at him for snooping he said a fellow has the right to know all about a girl before marriage. He said I should have nothing to hide.

Last week I got suspicious when he told me he had cashed his salary check and lost it out of his billfold. I did a little snooping on my own and found a bank book which showed $1840 I didn't know anything about. When I faced him with the bank book this morning he got so mad he slapped me.

Isn't a wife entitled to know what's going on financially? Now he's so mad at me he won't speak. What shall I do?—Nellie

Dear Nellie: In a good marriage people don't hide things from one another.

You should have had a clue to this bird's personality defects before you married him. When he broke into your apartment that should have been enough.

Now that you've bought the guy for better or worse you've got a job on your hands to make things better before they get worse.

See a marriage counselor or a clergyman together and try to set this turkey of a relationship on a working basis.

Dear Ann Landers: I read with interest the letter from "Shocked Wife." Please inform her the waitress her husband is running around with lives next door to me, and I, too, wish something could be done to break up their romance. They are keeping me up nights.

His alibi for getting up and leaving the house at 2:00 A.M. is a beaut! So he's a "Night Person" and can't sleep, is he? Well, I'm a "Day Person" and I'm getting zoll-darned fed up on the whole cheap business. Thanks for printing this. I hope it helps.—Beat

Dear Day Person: You sound pretty nosy. Granted, the affair is cheap and disgraceful—but why it should rob you of rest I cannot understand. Why don't you close your curtains and get some sleep?

Handsome Cowboy Hero Also Stars In Kitchen

A lean pantry makes a good cook. The two go hand in hand, says handsome Gene Barry, the dapper cowboy television hero, who says good chefs are born of necessity. Gene learned to create delectable cuisine by peering into near-empty refrigerators during his hash days. It might surprise his multitude of women fans to know that the handsome star of "Bat Masterson" can turn tidbits into gastronomical delights.

"I'm not broke now," he says, "but I still raid the ice box and concoct a terrific goulash or a sensational ragout out of leftovers. My Clams Linguini is a dish to charm a fish."

like Daddy and Freddie wants to be a great builder like Daddy."

But pride for father brings problems.

"Mike doesn't know whether youngsters like him for himself or me. I told him not to worry, that people love to touch greatness, that in a short time he would know who his friends are anyway."

The Barrys' friends have been made through their children. "Children and dogs can make or break you socially," says Gene. Gene hates to spend money on himself, although he always looks well-heeled.

NO SPENDTHRIFT

"You're looking at a guy who makes a quarter-of-a-million dollars a year and buys his suits on sale. None of these $250 deals for me."

He believes in promoting "Gene Barry," his legal name. He was born Eugene Klass.

"After all," he explains, "I've put a lot of sacrifices into the name. My wife went out to work to try to help me put it over. Keep trying, she'd say, as one door after another closed in my face."

Gene worked for a night, a week, anything he could get. Then a few years ago, it happened—he made the big time.

"I've got more than 25 million viewers watching me as 'Bat,' and I've got guest appearances lined up with all the top shows this fall," he says.

Monday Evening Party Honors Mrs. Paul Royce

The home of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Kelly on Bon Aire Drive was the setting for a tea shower on Monday, October 5, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Paul Royce, a bride of recent date. Mrs. Royce was before her marriage Miss Peggy Fairchild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Fairchild.

Hostesses with Mrs. Kelly were Mrs. J. L. Tolar, Mrs. C. C. Kornman, Mrs. E. L. Magnon, Mrs. W. A. Brothers, Mrs. J. R. Cotton, Mrs. E. J. Foster, Mrs. P. N. Edwards.

Greeting the guests on arrival were Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. P. N. Edwards.

Mrs. Royce, wearing an antique green tulle dress accented with a corsage of gardenias and tiny pink rosebuds, her mother, Mrs. Fairchild, and Mrs. W. E. Taylor, mother of the groom, formed the receiving line.

Among the many flower arrangements used to decorate the home was an arrangement of pink dahlias in a footed container used in the entrance hall. The coffee table in the living room held an arrangement of pink roses in a fluted white and pink bowl.

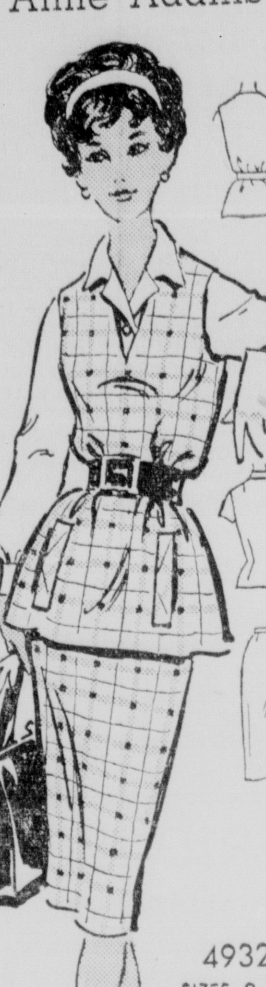

Mrs. C. J. Nichols and Mrs. E. W. Crowley alternated at the punch service in the family room. The punch table was covered with a white linen cloth edged in pink and centered with an arrangement of small pink roses and pink tapers.

Alternating at the silver coffee service in the dining room were Mrs. C. N. Anderson and Mrs. Howard Lewis. The coffee table held a centerpiece of white gardenias, tuberose and miniature dahlias flanked by tall white candles on a cloth of white hand drawn linen.

Miss Judy Fairchild, sister of the bride, was in charge of the gifts and Miss Carole Nichols presided at the guest book.

More than one hundred guests called during the appointed hours of the party.

Be Smart, Sister, And Lose That Blonde Cow

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Boy, have I got a problem! I am 26, my husband is 33, and my "problem" is this 41-year-old female boss. She is an overweight bleached blonde who wears her clothes so tight she looks like a stuffed sausage.

No matter where my husband and I go, this blonde cow is there. It is more than a coincidence because we haven't gone out once in the past six months without "running into" her.

She moves right in and spends the whole evening talking to and dancing with my husband. I might as well not even be there. I am getting sick of this. My husband claims he doesn't know how she gets into the act. Please help me before I get jailed for assault and battery and disturbing the peace.

FIGHTING MAD

DEAR FIGHTING: If you want to keep this woman out of the act, you'll have to find a new location. Make your plans on the spur of the moment, and then pick an out-of-the-way spot. If no one knows in advance where you'll be—neither will she.

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I get along very well but I need your help on something. Whenever she is talking to me, in order to express herself either more clearly or emphatically, she hits me on the arm. I don't think she realizes she does this. I have painful bruises after spending a few hours with her.

Is there any way I can get her out of this habit without telling her outright? BRUISED

SKIPPER TELLS OF ORDEAL IN GULF OF MEXICO

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss. (UPI)—John E. Larry, 36, skipper of the fishing boat Bessie Lee, told Friday how he spent 60 hours hugging a jerry can in the Gulf of Mexico after his ship sank.

The Moss Point, Miss., seaman was in fair condition at a local hospital suffering from exposure and jelly fish stings.

Larry said the Bessie Lee sank Sunday when it struck a submerged object offshore. A deck-hand on the 47-foot craft is still missing.

Larry, clung to a floating butane gas tank in the Gulf for 60 hours until he reached Chandelier Island. Then he walked 26 miles from one end of the island to another seeking help. A New Orleans fishing party finally found him Thursday.

LONGSHOREMEN

Workers Move Back Onto Piers

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen hustled back onto piers from Maine to Texas Friday after eight days of strike-enforced idleness ended by a Taft-Hartley mandate. Rain, however, washed out operations at some Atlantic ports. More than 30 million dollars' worth of perishable cargo was the initial target for 85,000 returning dockers. Some of it was near the pierage point.

Shippers figure their losses in a general waterfront strike at the rate of 20 million dollars a day. Thus, the latest strike cost about 160 millions.

As longshoremen tackled the backlog of cargo, an embargo was lifted against rail freight shipments to the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Two hundred cargo ships stranded by the strike began moving again along both coasts—in Portland, Maine; Boston, New York, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Va.; Jacksonville, Miami, Mobile, and New Orleans.

From Virginia to Maine, a pelting October rain lashed piers, curtailing operations.

A few cruise ships also were caught in the tieup, including the 23,000-ton American Export liner Constitution. Due to sail from New York for the Mediterranean last Monday, she rescheduled her sailing for Saturday.

The big luxury liners that move in and out of New York were not seriously affected by the strike. Their passengers had to handle their own luggage, but supervisory personnel had no trouble in berthing the vessels.

President Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley Act Tuesday against the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. It was the third time he had used the law against this same union since he took office in 1953.

Mechanics of invoking the act delayed court action until Thursday night. Then a restraining order, good for 10 days, was issued in U. S. dist. court here against continuation of the strike.

A hearing was scheduled for Oct. 15, at which the government is expected to win an extension of the court-enforced cooling off period to the full 90 days provided by the Taft-Hartley Law. This would ban the ILA from resuming the strike at least until Dec. 28.

With the court action, the ILA wasted no time in ordering its members back to work. Telegrams left union headquarters almost before the ink had dried on the court order.

DEATH SCENE — Fire yesterday destroyed the rear section of this Fenton, Mich., house, styled after a castle. Four children were trapped inside and killed. They were Shirley McKuen and her brothers, Lawrence, Stanley and Donald. (AP Wirephoto)

VARIETY OF CHARGES

Man Held In Ga. Wanted In La.

ATLANTA (AP) — A man arrested here for robbery is wanted in Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma on a variety of charges. Henry Salisbury, 40, who has a Los Angeles address, was held for the Fulton County Grand Jury without bond Friday after a preliminary hearing on a robbery charge.

He is charged with robbing Gerald Edward Willis, Atlanta trucking firm operator who was tied up by a gunman and relieved of $205 Wednesday.

Det. O. L. Adams said Salisbury has been identified as the man who was arrested near New Orleans Sept. 15 for investigation of the $1,028 armed robbery of a cocktail lounge. State police reported Salisbury offered a bribe of $600 to the trooper who arrested him.

The trooper turned Salisbury over to the sheriff's office in Jefferson Parish which released him the same day. Sheriff William Coci said Salisbury was released because no charges had been filed. Jefferson Parish Dist. Atty. Frank H. Langridge said he would ask for a warrant for Salisbury's return from Atlanta. If extradition is refused, Langridge said he or an assistant would come to Atlanta to question the man concerning how he was released from Jefferson.

Salisbury had been living in Biloxi, Miss., under an agreement with Oklahoma authorities who had paroled him. Records at the Oklahoma State Penitentiary show he was paroled Nov. 10, 1955. He completed a sentence for manslaughter in Tulsa County for robbery May 1, 1954 and then started one from Oklahoma County for robbery with firearms.

Atlanta police received a telegram from Oklahoma City police Friday asking that Salisbury be held and that a warrant would follow.

Adams said other requests to hold the man came from the Highway Patrol at Jackson, Miss., and from the Gulfport, Miss., sheriff's office. The Jackson request said he was wanted for armed robbery. The Gulfport telegram said he was wanted for parole violation.

Salisbury denied connection with the Atlanta robbery. He told police only that he had served time in Oklahoma for murder, that he lived in Los Angeles and is a building contractor.

In the Atlanta robbery, a gunman slid into Willis' car, forced him to drive to a dead end street and bound his feet and hands with rope. Willis managed to drive the car to a filling station to report the holdup. Enroute to the station he noticed a late model car speeding away. He was able to give police the first three numbers of the license and Salisbury was arrested on this information.

Science And You

TOKYO (AP)—Cramped for living space, the Japanese are winning a struggle to control their explosively growing population.

Birth control and legalized abortions are turning the tide.

Abortions cost only 80 cents to $3, or sometimes $5. More than a million are performed each year. Last year, for every three infants born, two wives had abortions.

Many Japanese are not happy about the high abortion rate, says Minoru Tachi, director of the Institute of Population Problems in the Welfare Ministry. It is hoped many abortions can be avoided through greater spread of birth control information.

Japan is the only nation in Asia, and one of the few anywhere, which has checked its fast-rising birth rate. Worldwide, population is increasing by about 100,000 daily.

Zooming population created particularly serious problems for Japan, a nation of crowded islands hard hit by war devastation and unemployment.

In 1945, Japan had 72 million people. Today it is 92 million, a 30 per cent increase. Total population would perhaps be 100 million or more if it were not for birth control measures adopted seven to eight years ago, Tachi explains.

Japan's population is growing now at the rate of only 1 per cent a year, and Tachi thinks it will go even lower.

Japan had a baby boom right after the war, as did other countries. Births soared to 2,700,000 a year in 1947-49, a rate of 34 births per 1,000 population. Today it's about half that figure, 18 per 1,000, compared with 25 in the United States.

"With population rising so fast, living standards were going down," Tachi says.

In 1951 the federal government supported birth control education. The prewar militarist government had opposed birth control—more babies meant more soldiers and workers.

In 1952, the Diet approved a eugenics protection law permitting abortions to safeguard a woman's life, to prevent transmission of serious hereditary diseases, but played in an industrial company offering health insurance.

Doctors reported 1,128,231 legal abortions in 1958, a figure slightly under the peak total in 1955.

"There are almost no deaths," Tachi says. "Now the physicians instruct their patients in birth control, to help them avoid repeated abortions."

There's still a black market in illegal abortions—for only married women can obtain the legal operations. Tachi and Toshio Kuroda, director of research for the Population Institute, estimate some 200,000 or more illegal abortions are performed annually.

also for "health and economic reasons."

"The interpretation of this is very elastic," Tachi remarks.

Legal abortions are performed by gynecologists named by local medical societies. The usual fee is 1,000 yen—about $3—but it may be only 300 yen (80 cents) if a woman or her husband is employed in an industrial company offering health insurance.

LONGSHOREMEN

Workers Move Back Onto Piers

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen hustled back onto piers from Maine to Texas Friday their eight days of strike-enforced idleness ended by a Taft-Hartley mandate. Rain, however, washed out operations at some Atlantic ports. More than 30 million dollars' worth of perishable cargo was the initial target for 85,000 returning dockers. Some of it was near the spoilage point. Shippers figure their losses in a general waterfront strike at the rate of 20 million dollars a day. Thus, the latest strike cost about 160 millions.

As longshoremen tackled the backlog of cargo, an embargo was lifted against rail freight shipments to the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Two hundred cargo ships stranded by the strike began moving again along both coasts — in Portland, Maine; Boston, New York, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Va.; Jacksonville, Miami, Mobile, and New Orleans.

From Virginia to Maine, a pelting October rain lashed piers, curtailing operations.

A few cruise ships also were caught in the tieup, including the 23,000-ton American Export liner Constitution. Due to sail from New York for the Mediterranean last Monday, she rescheduled her sailing for Saturday.

The big luxury liners that move in and out of New York were not seriously affected by the strike. Their passengers had to handle their own luggage, but supervisory personnel had no trouble in berthing the vessels.

President Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley Act Tuesday against the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. It was the third time he had used the law against this same union since he took office in 1953.

Mechanics of invoking the act delayed court action until Thursday night. Then a restraining order, good for 10 days, was issued in U. S. dist. court here against continuation of the strike.

A hearing was scheduled for Oct. 15, at which the government is expected to win an extension of the court-enforced cooling off period to the full 80 days provided by the Taft-Hartley Law. This would ban the ILA from resuming the strike at least until Dec. 28.

With the court action, the ILA wasted no time in ordering its members back to work. Telegrams left union headquarters almost before the ink had dried on the court order.

Science And You

TOKYO (AP)—Cramped for living space, the Japanese are winning a struggle to control their explosively growing population.

Birth control and legalized abortions are turning the tide.

Abortions cost only 80 cents to $3, or sometimes $5. More than a million are performed each year. Last year, for every three infants born, two wives had abortions.

Many Japanese are not happy about the high abortion rate, says Minoru Tachi, director of the Institute of Population Problems in the Welfare Ministry. It is hoped many abortions can be avoided through greater spread of birth control information.

Japan is the only nation in Asia, and one of the few anywhere, which has checked its fast-rising birth rate. Worldwide, population is increasing by about 100,000 daily.

Zooming population created particularly serious problems for Japan, a nation of crowded islands hard hit by war devastation and unemployment.

In 1945, Japan had 72 million people. Today it is 92 million, a 30 per cent increase. Total population would perhaps be 100 million or more if it were not for birth control measures adopted seven to eight years ago, Tachi explains.

Japan's population is growing now at the rate of only 1 per cent a year, and Tachi thinks it will go even lower.

Japan had a baby boom right after the war, as did other countries. Births soared to 2,700,000 a year in 1947-49, a rate of 34 births per 1,000 population. Today it's about half that figure, 18 per 1,000, compared with 25 in the United States.

"With population rising so fast, living standards were going down," Tachi says.

In 1951 the federal government supported birth control education. The prewar militarist government had opposed birth control — more babies meant more soldiers and workers.

In 1952, the Diet approved a eugenics protection law permitting abortions to safeguard a woman's life, to prevent transmission of serious hereditary diseases, but also for "health and economic reasons."

"The interpretation of this is very elastic," Tachi remarks.

Legal abortions are performed by gynecologists named by local medical societies. The usual fee is 1,000 yen—about $3—but it may be only 300 yen (80 cents) if a woman or her husband is employed in an industrial company offering health insurance.

Doctors reported 1,128,231 legal abortions in 1958, a figure slightly under the peak total in 1955.

"There are almost no deaths," Tachi says. "Now the physicians instruct their patients in birth control, to help them avoid repeated abortions."

There's still a black market in illegal abortions—for only married women can obtain the legal operations. Tachi and Toshio Kuroda, director of research for the Population Institute, estimate some 200,000 or more illegal abortions are performed annually.

VARIETY OF CHARGES

Man Held In Ga. Wanted In La.

ATLANTA (AP)—A man arrested here for robbery is wanted in Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma on a variety of charges.

Henry Salisbury, 40, who has a Los Angeles address, was held for the Fulton County Grand Jury without bond Friday after a preliminary hearing on a robbery charge.

He is charged with robbing Gerald Edward Willis, Atlanta trucking firm operator who was tied up by a gunman and relieved of $205 Wednesday.

Det. O. L. Adams said Salisbury has been identified as the man who was arrested near New Orleans Sept. 15 for investigation of the $1,028 armed robbery of a cocktail lounge. State police reported Salisbury offered a bribe of $600 to the trooper who arrested him.

The trooper turned Salisbury over to the sheriff's office in Jefferson Parish which released him the same day. Sheriff William Coci said Salisbury was released because no charges had been filed.

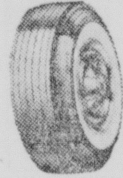

Jefferson Parish Dist. Atty. Frank H. Langridge said he would ask for a warrant for Salisbury's return from Atlanta. If extradited, Salisbury would be held in Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma on a variety of charges.

Salisbury had been living in Biloxi, Miss., under an agreement with Oklahoma authorities who had paroled him. Records at the Oklahoma State Penitentiary show he was paroled Nov. 10, 1955. He completed a sentence for manslaughter in Tulsa County for robbery May 1, 1954 and then started one from Oklahoma County for robbery with firearms.

Atlanta police received a telegram from Oklahoma City police Friday asking that Salisbury be held and that a warrant would follow.

Salisbury denied connection with the Atlanta robbery. He told police only that he had served time in Oklahoma for murder, that he lived in Los Angeles and is a building contractor.

In the Atlanta robbery, a gunman slid into Willis' car, forced him to drive to a dead end street and bound his feet and hands with rope. Willis managed to drive the car to a filling station to report the holdup. Enroute to the station he noticed a late model car speeding away. He was able to give police the first three numbers of the license and Salisbury was arrested on this information.

Four People Plead Guilty In Louisiana

VIDALIA, La. (AP) — Three teenagers and an adult from Tennessee and Virginia pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of simple burglary in the theft of a safe from the post office at Frogmore, La.

A 15-year-old boy from Kingsport, who had been held for investigation with the others, was turned over to juvenile authorities for probation.

Those who pleaded guilty were Thomas Lee Willis, 17, Noah Allen Maxwell, 20, Charles Eugene Smith, 24, all of Kingsport, and a Tennessee license plate.

Dennis Franklin Harris, 19, Gate City, Va. Dist. Court Judge Jesse C. McQueen delayed sentencing until next Tuesday.

The five were arrested Saturday near Jena, La., after deputies received a tip they were hiding in a wooded area nearby. The post office safe was found at the place where the five were arrested.

Officers said the five had also been charged in connection with the robbery of a dry goods store at Boyce and a grocery at Frogmore, and had admitted 22 acts in Tennessee ranging from breaking and entering to theft.

At the time of arrest, clothing, cigarettes, knives, radios and other items were found in their possession. Officers said the group were traveling in a stolen car and with Tennessee license plates.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Four People Plead Guilty In Louisiana

VIDALIA, La. (AP) — Three teen-agers and an adult from Tennessee and Virginia pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of simple burglary in the theft of a safe from the post office at Frogmore, La.

A 15-year-old boy from Kingsport, who had been held for investigation with the others, was turned over to juvenile authorities for probation.

Those who pleaded guilty were Thomas Lee Willis, 17, Noah Allen Mowell, 20, Charles Eugene Sutherland, 24, all of Kingsport; and Dennis Franklin Harris, 19, Gate City, Va. Dist. Court Judge Jesse C. McGee delayed sentencing until next Tuesday.

The five were arrested Saturday near Jena, La., after deputies received a tip they were hiding in a wooded area nearby. The post office safe was found at the place where the five were arrested.

Officers said the five had also been charged in connection with the robbery of a dry goods store at Boyce and a grocery at Frogmore, and had admitted 22 acts in Tennessee ranging from breaking and entering to theft.

At the time of arrest, clothing, cigarettes, knives, radios and other items were found in their possession. Officers said the group were traveling in a stolen car with Tennessee license plates.

Two Colonels Slated To Be Transferred

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force said Friday that two colonels, who supported testimony by four U.S. enlisted men that they were beaten by Turkish police, will be transferred from Turkey for failure to keep close rein on currency transactions in their commands.

A lieutenant colonel who served as information officer in the area was relieved of duty "for failure to fulfill his responsibilities in a position of trust."

The two colonels relieved of commands at the NATO headquarters at Izmir are:

Col. Robert N. Wilkinson, Honolulu, Commander of the U.S. Logistical Detachment.

Lt. Col. Charles N. Moss, Shaker Heights, Ohio: Commander of the Air Force hospital at the base.

Their relief from command is not related in any way to the allegations of mistreatment of U.S. military prisoners by Turkish police, the Air Force said.

At the same time, the Army said Lt. Col. Hal D. Steward, information officer at Headquarters of Allied Land Forces, Southeast Europe, at Izmir, was relieved of command for failing to "fulfill his responsibilities."

Three Air Force enlisted men and one army enlisted man are being tried in Turkey on charges of violating currency regulations. They have claimed that they were mistreated by Turkish police and the policemen allegedly involved are being tried separately.

Dam Across Bering Strait Is Discussed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Russian engineer says it might be possible to improve the climate of the north with the help of a 55-mile dam across the Bering Strait between the Soviet Union and Alaska.

With atomic power, he would pump water by the thousands of cubic miles from the warm Pacific side of the dam into the cold arctic side.

The idea is attributed by the Moscow newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda to A. I. Shumilin, Shumilin's project, the paper said, "would moderate the climate of the arctic and its adjoining continents."

The newspaper published a survey of Soviet scientific opinion on whether man can change the weather on a large scale. The article was distributed here by the Commerce Department's office of technical services.

The announced conclusion was that it is possible to change the climate "in principle." U. S. weather scientists, however, say a vast amount of further research is necessary before this can be done practically.

U.S. Officials Greet British Victory Gladly

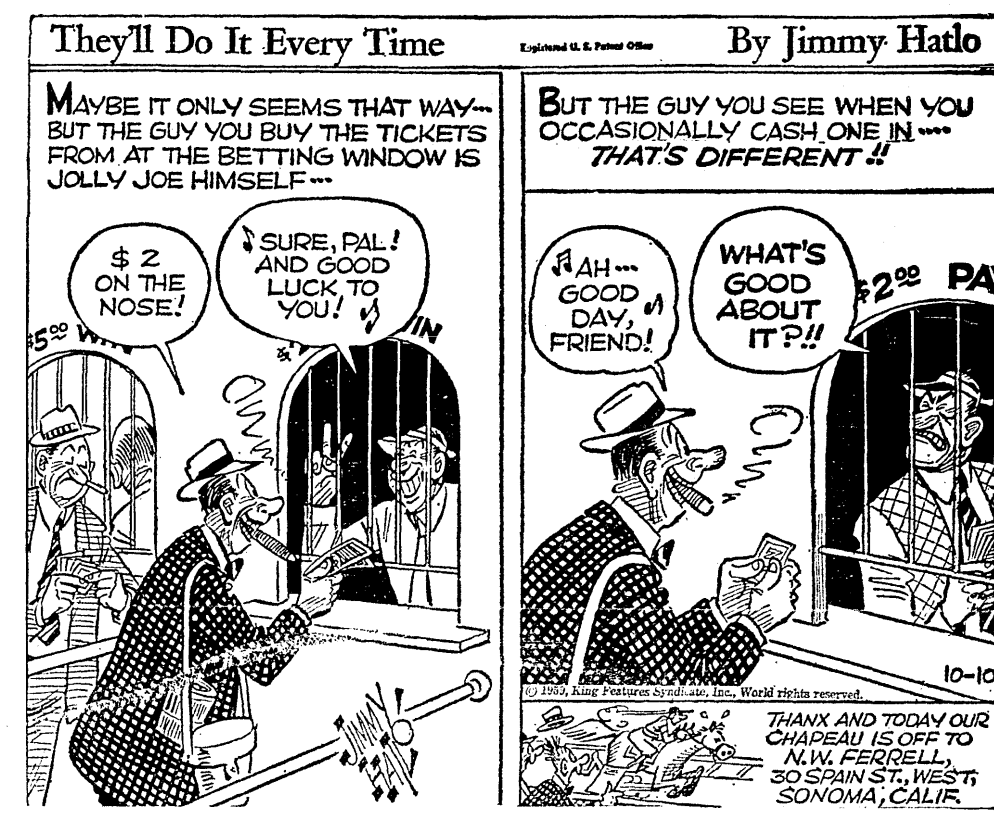

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials Friday greeted with diplomatically restrained pleasure Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's smashing British election victory over the Socialist Labor Party.

While publicly neutral, they made clear they felt it would be easier to continue working with Macmillan's Conservative Party as the Western Allies head toward a mid-winter summit meeting with Russia.

The U.S. government took no pre-election action which might be construed as interfering with the British balloting.

But with the votes counted, President Eisenhower sent immediate congratulations to Macmillan. The White House, which had kept the President informed of the voting trend from the moment returns began coming in, did not make the message public.

The State Department issued a statement through press officer Joseph W. Reap saying that "we look forward to continuing the pattern of fruitful collaboration which we have enjoyed in the past with the British government, now headed again by the Conservative Party."

The corn forecast is 47,382,000 bushels more than the 4,381,772,000 bushels forecast a month ago. This compares with the 3,799,844,000 bushel 1958 crop and the 3,251,064,000 for the 10-year average.

The wheat forecast is 1,025,000 bushels more than the 1,116,405,000 estimate a month ago. This compares with the record 1958 crop of 1,462,218,000 bushels and the 1,075,391,000 for the 10-year average.

The winter wheat was estimated at 909,333,000 bushels, the same as last month's forecast. The 1958 winter wheat crop was 1,179,924,000 bushels and the 10-year average is 814,784,000.

Spring wheat was estimated at 208,097,000 bushels compared with 207,072,000 bushels last month, 282,294,000 last year and 260,606,000 for the 10-year average.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government survey showed Friday that a big percentage of firms in major food marketing industries have taken over other companies in recent years. ## Siamese Twins Both Survive Critical Hours

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Stubblefield Siamese twins clung amazingly to life Friday, three days after being separated by surgery.

Doctors who feared only one could survive Thursday, now have hope both will live, since they have gone through the critical 48 hours following the operation.

Doctors despaired for the life of Jeannette Kim Stubblefield as her tiny lungs filled with fluid and she lacked the strength to cough it out.

With tubes, however, attendants were able to suck much of the fluid out, meanwhile pumping oxygen in.

Within hours after the doctors had reported she was sinking fast, the 3-month-old girl was rallying.

"It's almost a miracle," said one of the doctors.

Joseph J. Adams, University of Oregon Medical School public relations director, reported she had another relapse Thursday night, but again rallied. She got some sleep and Friday showed more reaction to things around her.

Her twin sister, Denette Linn, continued to improve slowly.

The girls were joined in the abdomen from breastbone to navel when born at Nyssa, Ore., June 29. Surgeons had to sever the breastbones and a common liver in the operation Tuesday.

Four-Year-Old Flips Switch For Beacons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four-year-old Susan Schwab is the envy of her playmates.

Two months ago the Federal Aviation Agency built a 150-foot microwave tower behind her home in Virginia's Fairfax County. It has big red beacons on top to warn away airplanes at night.

Every evening, between the dusk and the darkness, Susan switches on the beacon lights. The switch, you see, is right in her living room.

It happened this way: After the lower was up, the workmen somewhat sheepishly asked Susan's daddy, Gerald, if they could tap his electric line for two or three days for the beacon lights until they could rig up their own power line.

Then it turned out they needed a special switchbox, and for that they needed to build a little house at the base of the tower. The steel strike prevented purchase of the materials for that. Could they please keep on tapping Schwab's power for a while longer?

Schwab agreed, and he finds the beacon arrangement has one big advantage. Their friends, driving to their house for the first time, have no trouble at all finding it.

Appeal Set On Title Of Tidelands

WASHINGTON (Special) — Gulf State attorneys have scheduled a Saturday morning meeting in Washington to prepare final plans for their supreme court appeal to retain title to the oil and gas leasing rights to the tidelands.

Louisiana Attorney General Jack Gremlion said Friday the meeting is designed to coordinate presentation of the arguments. Eleven lawyers from Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, and the Pelican state will be addressing the high court.

Gremlion himself was at work on changes of wording in his argument, which will seek to convince the court that the gulf presents a special situation for determining state and national boundary lines.

The gulf states are seeking to retain title to the underwater area 10.35 miles from shore. They contend this zone was granted to them by Congress in the 1953 submerged lands act. The area—especially off Louisiana—is a rich drilling region for gas and oil.

With Gremlion in Washington are nine special assistant attorneys general. They are Victor A.

Sachse, Edward M. Carmouche, W. Scott Wilkinson, John L. Madden, Bailey Walsh, Hugh M. Wilkinson, Morris Wright, Frank B. Ellis, and Marc Dupuy Jr.

James R. Fuller, who participated in preparation of the case, is not attending the supreme court hearing, which begins Monday and will last four days.

Gremlion said he is also accompanied by Ernest Eldred, special assistant to the attorney general.

Texas lawyers include Attorney General Will Wilson, former state supreme court judge James P. Hart, and J. Chrus Doughterty. Gov. Price Daniel will also participate in arguing the state's case. Mississippi is sending Joe T. Patterson, its attorney general, and John H. Price, Jr.

Peter Townsend Is Engaged To 21-Year-Old

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Peter Townsend, the former Royal Air Force ace who wooed but lost Britain's Princess Margaret, is engaged to 21-year-old Marie-Luce Jamagne, daughter of a Belgian industrialist, Brussels newspapers reported Friday.

Miss Jamagne accompanied Townsend as a photographer on his recent world tour.

She bears somewhat of a resemblance to Princess Margaret, who renounced Townsend in 1955 because he was a divorced man.

Like the princess, Miss Jamagne is dark-haired and pretty. She is first met Townsend when she was 15, in Brussels. She and Townsend often have been seen riding together on bicycle paths.
